COVID CASES DOWN, CENTRE WANTS STATES TO LIFT CURBS

The Union health secretary has urged them to lift the restrictions imposed in the wake of third Covid wave

'PANDEMIC ON DOWNWARD TREND SINCE JAN 21'

In a letter to chief secretaries and chief administrators of all states and UTs on Wednesday, Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan noted the pandemic is showing a sustained declining trend since January 21. As such, all additional Covid restrictions imposed at state-level points of entries can be lifted so that movement of people is not hampered

CONSIDERABLE DECLINE IN FRESH CASES

- The states and UTs must, however, monitor the trajectory of cases and spread of infection and follow the broad strategy of Test-Track-Treat-Vaccination and adherence to Covid norms
- An average of 50,476 cases were reported in India per day last week. On Wednesday, India reported 30,615 fresh cases

Probe on ex-NSE chief's mystery baba?

Centre rubbishes her claim as cock-and-bull story, says e-mails point at criminal conduct

SHAHID FARIDI @new delhi

THE Centre may order a probe into charges that former CEO & MD of NSE Chitra Ramkrishna shared confidential information about India's largest stock exchange with a mysterious outsider, whom she described as a Siddha-Purush without a physical persona who lived in the Himalayas and communicated with her only through email.

Market regulator Sebi, while investigating an alleged co-location scam by NSE, stumbled upon emails exchanged between Ramkrishna and the mystery baba. Forensic examination of Ramkrishna's computer by Ernst & Young revealed emails from the so-called Siddha Purush advising her on operational matters, including appointments to key posts, and she sharing sensitive plans and projections with him.

Ramkrishna said she met the Siddha-Purush on the banks of river Ganga 20 years ago and he gave her no locational co-ordinates but she took his guidance on many personal and professional matters. She said, "Their spiritual powers do not require them to have any such physical co-ordinates. Along the way, he would manifest at will and I did not have any locational co-ordinates, I requested Him for a way in which I could seek His guidance whenever I felt the need. Accordingly, He gave me an id on which I could send my requests."

Government sources rubbished the 'cock and bull' Siddha-Purush story put forward by Ramkrishna in her defence and said emails recovered during investigation prima facie establish a criminal conduct on her part, and an investigation would be ordered to find out the identity of the unknown person as the matter concerns financial security of the country.

Advocate: Students' welfare in MLA-headed panel is draconian

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CONTENDING that neither the Karnataka Education Act nor the rules framed under the Act delegate powers to the College Development Committee (CDC) to prescribe any uniform, senior advocate Ravivarma Kumar on Wednesday argued before the Karnataka High Court that entrusting the welfare of students to CDC headed by an MLA or MP belonging to a political party or ideology is a death note to democracy.

Kumar, representing petitioner-students who have questioned the order issued by the state government on February 5, 2022 banning hijab, argued that the CDC was constituted to utilise grants, maintain academic standards and develop infrastructure, and not for welfare of students.

By any stretch of imagination, CDC cannot prescribe uniforms or entrust to use 'police powers' to discipline the students. "An MLA or MP cannot be entrusted with any power either under the statute or under the Constitution," he said. P4

Over 700 pen open letter on hijab row

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

MORE than 700 people, including 500 lawyers, two former High Court judges and Karnataka State Backward Classes Commission former chairman Dr C S Dwarakanath, have written an open letter to the stakeholders in the hijab row. The signatories to the letter expressed concern over the recent Karnataka High Court's interim order, stating that it has led to many instances of Muslim women and girls facing public humiliation. With schools reopening, videos are being circulated across Karnataka of teachers and students being forced to remove their hijabs and burqas before entering school premises, they noted. P4

We may need separate bench for Karnataka, says CJI

With a large number of cases coming to the Supreme Court from Karnataka, CJI NV Ramana on Wednesday sarcastically remarked that a special bench would need to be constituted for matters from the State. The remarks were made after Solicitor General Tushar Mehta sought urgent listing of a case relating to compensation for those affected by mining in the state. "We will list it and may be we have to form a bench only for matters from Karnataka," the CJI commented.

Chaos prevailed at the century-old Government Empress PU College for Girls in Tumakuru when a group of students protested on being denied entry into the campus wearing the hijab.

Upper Bhadra gets national project status

The national project tag will help us in getting Rs 12,500 crore from the Centre and speed up the ambitious irrigation project that will transform central Karnataka
Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chitradurga

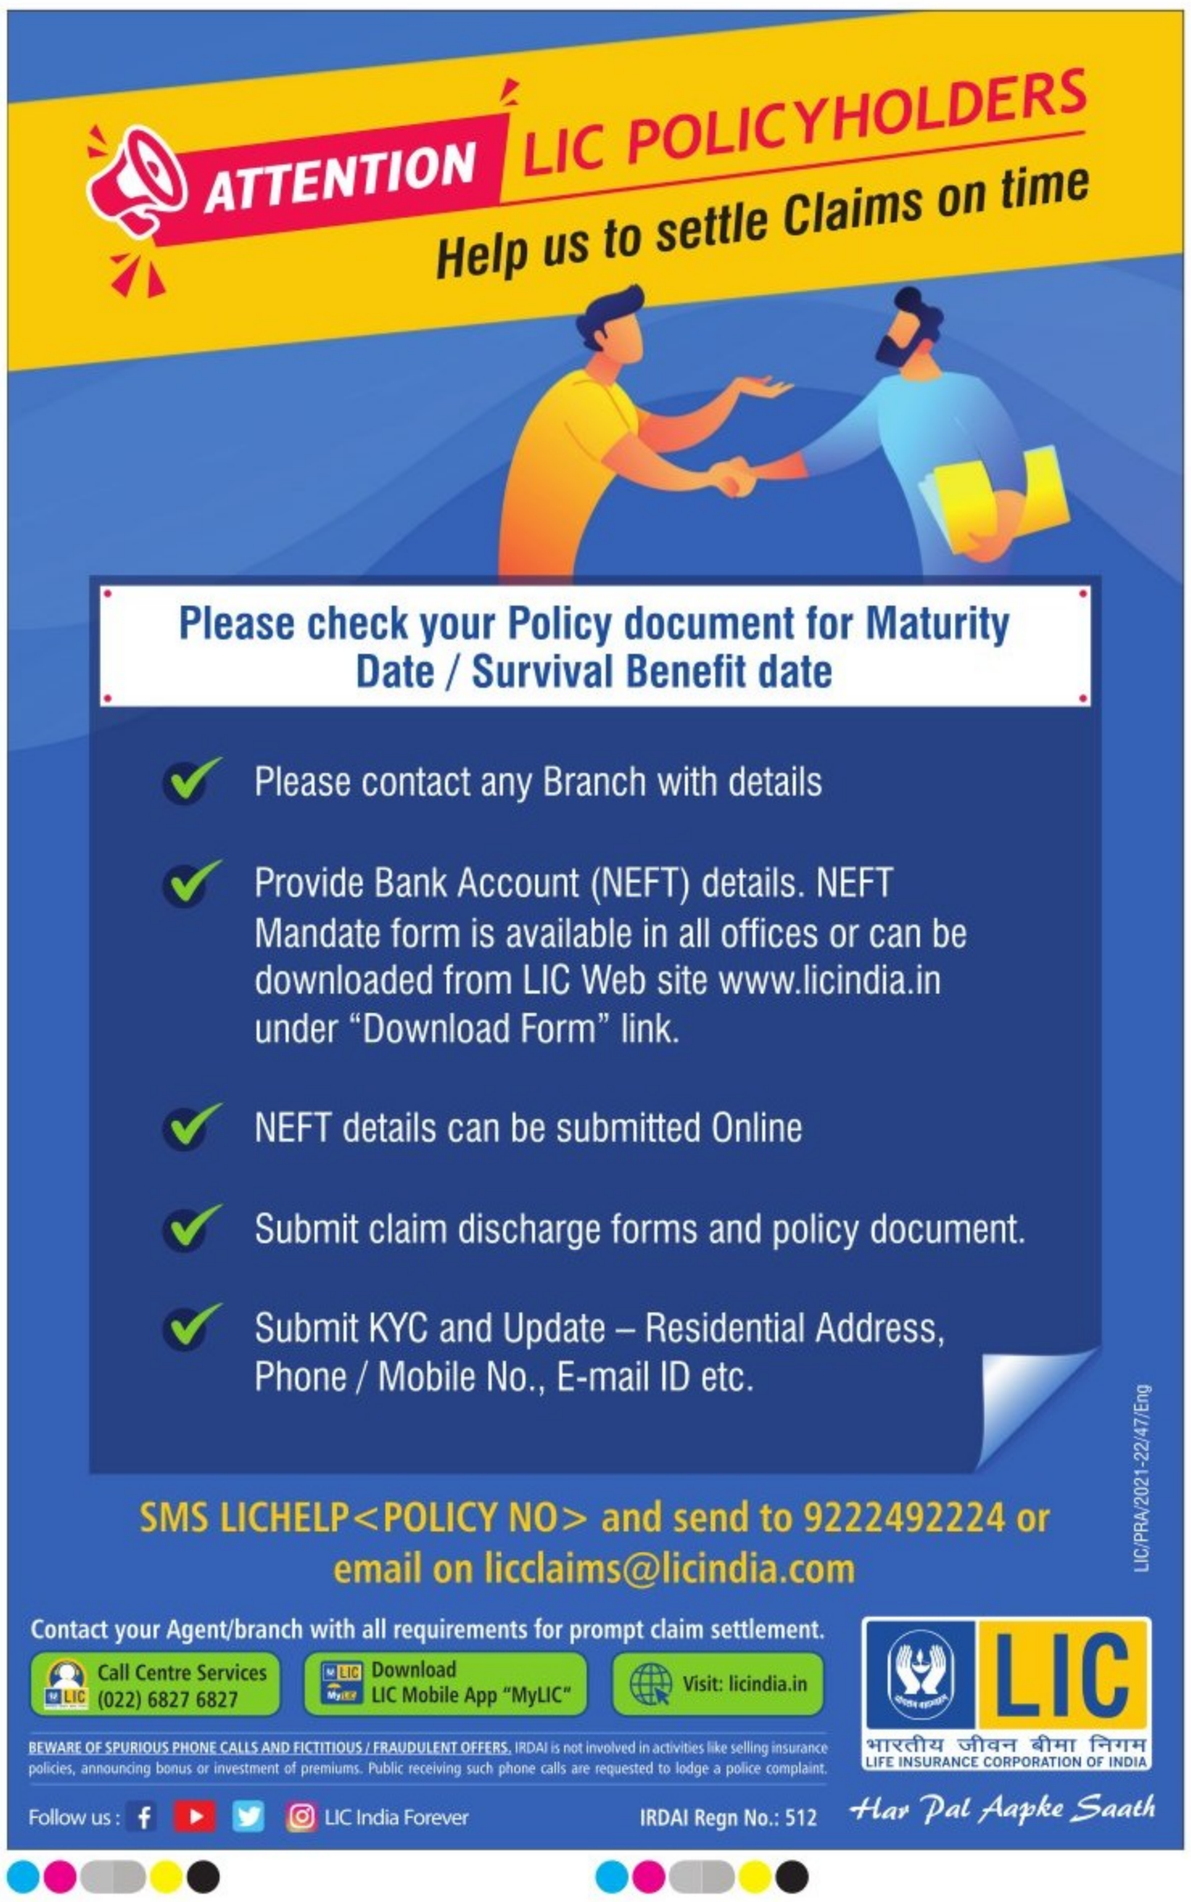
CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday announced that the high-powered committee of the Centre gave national project status to the Upper Bhadra Project on Tuesday.

Bommai said this is the first project in the state to get the status and this will change the irrigation scenario of central Karnataka.

"The national project tag will help us in getting Rs 12,500 crore from the Centre and speed up the ambitious irrigation project that will transform central Karnataka from being water scarce to water rich," he said.

Recollecting the timeline of the project, he said, "It was former CM BS Yediyurappa who assigned me the task of making Karnataka water rich by utilising the excess water available in Krishna and Cauvery basins effectively. We also took up the Upper Bhadra Project in 2009. Water is now flowing to Vani Vilas Sagar Dam, which has made the region water rich."

He added that the government is committed to protect its water rights. "We will also start water conservation programmes to help the state have bountiful resources," he added. Bommai thanked PM Narendra Modi and Union Water Resources Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat for giving the national project status to the Upper Bhadra Project.



No signs of Russian troop pullout: US

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

A day after Russia announced that it was drawing down some of the 1,30,000 troops it had deployed near the Ukraine borders, Ukraine, the US and the Nato said they are yet to see any signs of Russian troops pullout.

"Unfortunately there's a difference between what Russia says, and what it does, and what we're seeing is no meaningful pullback," US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said. He warned that the threat of war has not receded and Russia can still invade Ukraine any moment given the number of troops still at the border. Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy similarly dismissed the Russian withdrawal claims, noting the lack of evidence. But Russia made further claims of withdrawal on Tuesday, saying it was pulling troops from Crimea after a military exercise.

India is contemplating running direct flights to the Ukraine capital to evacuate citizens. At present, there are no direct flights to Kyiv. As panic gripped Indians there and their families back home, the MEA set up a control room to provide information and assistance.

CONG, BJP MLAs ALMOST COME TO BLOWS OVER TRICOLOUR ROW

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IT was a virtual war zone in the Karnataka Assembly on Wednesday as Congress and BJP MLAs almost came to blows, with opposition party members demanding the dismissal of Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister KS Eshwarappa from the cabinet and a sedition case against him for his alleged remarks that the saffron flag (Bhagawa Dhwaja) would be hoisted at the Red Fort.

At one point, as Congress MLAs rushed towards the treasury benches, the situation was so tense that the marshals had to be called in to stand as a barrier between the two groups.

The ruckus started with Opposition Leader Siddaramiah seeking to move an adjournment motion against the minister's statement. "Eshwarappa is a senior minister. He has insulted the national flag," he said. P4

Pressure on govt to clear parking policy, mobility bill

Officials of various depts meet CM; want traffic woes addressed soon

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

WITH the legislature session on and Chief Minister Basvaraj Bommai, who is also Bengaluru Development Minister, talking about easing lives of Bengalureans and improving connectivity, officials from multiple government departments are now demanding that the traffic situation be addressed at the earliest.

Officials from the Urban Development Department, Directorate of Urban Land Transport and Transport Department are making presentations and holding discussions with the chief minister to implement the parking policy soon, approve the urban mobility bill, create more pedestrian spaces and, most importantly, bring back the once-proposed green signal corridors.

"It has been noticed that when one signal is green, the very next signal is red and the signals have very long waiting periods, but very short moving time. It has also been seen that many BMTC buses are running nearly empty on roads during afternoon and evening hours occupying a large space on roads. A relook at the transportation scenario and creating more spaces for cycling will not just reduce congestion, but will also improve the air quality," said a senior UDD official.

Bengaluru is notorious for its huge traffic jams, an image that the State Government wants to change

The officials are pointing out that one of the prime suggestions made by citizens is that the greenery in the city be increased, especially on dividers and road sides, so that there is some shade for two wheelers when waiting for signals. They suggest that when roads are being redone and improved under Tender Sure, Smart City and for utility works, this should be given importance. They are also suggesting to the government to create space for cyclists as the demand for cycling is increasing, not just by techies but by lower income groups who are demanding safety on roads amidst heavy vehicle movement.

"The CM has been keen to improve the city's traffic problems, but yet maintain the originality of the city despite many flyovers and Metro coming up. This is the right time to incorporate all these aspects when the city's mobility issue and people's lifestyle are being looked at together. This is also the right time to address the issue as the pandemic has made people realise that health comes first," the official added.

VEGETABLE PRICES SOAR, UNTIMELY RAINS BLAMED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ALTHOUGH it is not the monsoon season, the prices of essential vegetables like onion, tomatoes, and potatoes in the city have soared.

A kilogram of onion costs Rs 47 in Hopcoms outlets, in the retail market the price varies between Rs 50 and Rs 55. A kg of tomatoes in Hopcoms outlet costs Rs 23 while in the retail it was priced at Rs 25/kg. Similarly, in Hopcoms, a kg of potatoes costs Rs 32, and in the retail market, it is Rs 35. The small tomatoes also cost Rs 18 in the Hopcoms outlet and Rs 20 in the retail market.

Umesh Mirji, managing director, Hopcoms, told The New Indian Express that the prices of tomatoes were slightly high because of the fresh crop.

The official added that the prices will fluctuate for a few more days after which they will fall.

"The prices of onions and potatoes are rising because the production in the state was hampered due to the unprecedented and untimely rains. There is no local produce at the moment and the state is dependent on Maharashtra and Punjab. So till there is sufficient stock and local production, the prices are rising," Mirji said.

Denying that the rise in the prices was because of transportation issues, festivals or change of season, he said the reason was tight demand and supply.

'Allot Rs 15k cr grant for govt schools'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN preparation of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 being implemented in schools in the coming academic year, Prof MR Doreswamy, former government education reforms advisor, has sought an allotment of Rs 15,000 crore to government schools.

Prof Doreswamy has requested Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to consider allotting a special one-time grant of Rs 15,000 crore for the development of government schools in Karnataka in the state budget. "Most of over 48,000 government schools in Karnataka need re-imaging to effectively deliver the services recommended by NEP," Prof Doreswamy said.

The educationist and former advisor made the request in the backdrop of the upcoming budget presentation, stating that such a grant would put government schools on par with 'privileged urban schools'.

Prof Doreswamy also listed a number of facilities that should be made a priority, including toilets, availability of drinking water, furniture, renovated and up-to-date classrooms, as well as making digital education a priority.

"It is unfortunate that even after seven decades after Independence, the state of government schools remains unchanged, with the issues of physical infrastructure, teacher-student ratio, academic character and holistic personality development resurfacing time and again in different contexts," he said.

Prof Doreswamy took the example of the Telangana Government allotting a grant of Rs 7,289 crore under the 'Mana Vuru Mana Badi' programme, saying that the Karnataka Government has been at the forefront of implementing National Education Policy and should not lag behind in terms of the development of its government schools.

Four railway stations in city all set to become disabled-friendly

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

MUCH-NEEDED amenities for passengers suffering from different kinds of disabilities are set to make their debut at four railway stations in Bengaluru Division. The push for it was given by the city-headquartered Samarthanam Trust for the Disabled.

Whitefield, Bengaluru Cantonment, Krantiveera Sangolli Rayanna, Bengaluru, and the yet-to-be-inaugurated Sir M Visvesvaraiah Terminal in Baiayappanahalli will have these amenities, which would cost over Rs 50 lakh.

According to Chief Public Relations Officer, South Western Railway Zone, E Vijaya, "We have given in-principle approval for the Samarthanam Trust for the Disabled to go ahead with the works and they have commenced them too. An MoU will shortly be signed between the trust and the Division."

Elaborating, she said that a vital amenity would be multiple TV display screens (32 inch) installed at each of the stations that would beam videos in sign language for the speech and hearing impaired passengers. They are aimed at making them more independent travellers, she added.

"These videos or slides will highlight the location of important facilities like unreserved and reserved ticket counters, parking, entry and exit gates, foot-over-bridges, escalators, toilets, waiting rooms and so on. KSR station will have four TV display screens while the other stations will have two each," she added.

FOR REPRESENTATION PURPOSE

To assist those with partial visual impairments, the prevalent route map of the railway station will have radium reflectors. Each platform and the flights of stairs too would be in colours of yellow and white, while colour strips will be introduced for the glass doors and corridors, Vijaya said.

Ramp with railings at booking offices, height modification of Divyang passenger counters at booking office counter, modification of toilets inside general waiting room will be among the amenities to be provided.

Founder and Managing Trustee of Samarthanam Trust for the Disabled, G K Mahantesh, told The New Indian Express that they would be providing these facilities with the help of Corporate Ssocial Responsibility (CSR) contributions from their partner.

"We have observed the wonderful facilities that the disabled are provided at railway stations abroad and want to ensure the same are being done in India too. These facilities would benefit thousands as many disabled individuals opt for train travel due to the highly subsidised fare being offered to them by Indian Railways."

17th February : Do you like music? If so, you'll warm to the latest theory that the universe is as we see it because of the presence of billions upon billions of tiny 'strings' that vibrate at different frequencies. All vibrations can be converted into sound, so everywhere around us the universe is singing. What a nice thought.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Your planets are on your side, although it constantly seems as if the opposite is true. Although the critical moment has now passed, I would say that you are still not out of the woods. People who are determinedly irrational and ill-tempered, are still capable of causing disruption.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
By nature, you are conservative and unwilling to change. This is what makes it difficult for you to decide between different options, each of which could lead to a massive improvement in your prosperity. Give it about another eight weeks and you'll know the outcome.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Although everything now indicates that you are in a position to resolve a number of options and even to make a decisive move, other people still seem to be either unreliable or unprepared to co-operate. But, then, that's a state of affairs you're rapidly getting used to.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your world is one of frustration and discord on the one hand, deep satisfaction and fulfilment on the other. People in your circle fall into two camps; those who are inspiring you to new heights and those who are responsible for holding you back. Make your choices now!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Vivacious Venus, in a sensitive region of your chart, endows you with a tendency to manipulate people who are outside your normal field of control. However, by the weekend you will come into the open, demanding that partners acknowledge your authority. Whether they will or not is another matter!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Stick to concise and business like communications and you'll be in the clear. If, on the other hand, you stray from the straight and narrow, whatever you say will be misunderstood and misconstrued. You're beginning to take certain obstacles for granted, but they won't last long.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
One false move and even minor differences of opinion could well become major conflicts. Probably the best thing is to keep your principles and ideals to yourself and avoid imposing arbitrary standards on other people. After all, if you don't explain yourself, you can't expect partners to know what you want.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Gentle Venus should enable you to keep your emotions under control, yet Mars' imminent movement into a new region of your chart is storing up trouble between colleagues. Therefore, I think that you should now be aware of the need to maintain equilibrium at work.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
In among the potential havoc that is a feature of current planetary aspects, stands a positive relationship between Venus and Pluto, which means that you could be the recipient of an enormous amount of generosity. Just a reminder about work: you have another couple of weeks to tie up loose ends.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Most of you should now be freed from the pressures and demands that other people have been rather unfairly placing on your time. It will be a pleasure to find that partners are now increasingly willing to take life as it comes. It is so good to know that they'll be hassling you less, supporting you more.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
There is now one compelling reason why you must take very careful note of what other people are saying and doing, and it is because within a few days you will be confronted and challenged to play your full part. But that's when the problems begin!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
A major romantic upheaval of some kind appears to be unavoidable, but the consequences may be much to your liking. You crave intensity of emotion but all too often have to make do with partners' bland posturing. Yet, there is one person who can break through and show you the truth!

City sees big drop in active cases

Case load falls to 9,955 from over 2 lakh on Jan 23; state count now 23,284

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

AFTER a month and 13 days, Bengaluru's active case load has fallen below the 10,000-mark, standing at 9,955 cases on Wednesday. The capital city's share of the active case load was a massive part of the entire state's active case numbers throughout the third wave -- even more than what it recorded in the previous two waves of the pandemic.

The last time the city's active case numbers were below 10,000 was on January 3 when it was 9,575, at a time when the third wave had just begun, and a massive surge, propelled by the Omicron variant of the SARS-CoV-2 virus, saw the active cases go up to 2,31,833 on January 23 at the peak of the third wave of the pandemic.

The decline in active cases in Bengaluru soon followed. From January 24 till date, the number of active cases has been rapidly falling, except on January 26, 30 and 31, when there was an increase in the active caseload. The active cases fell below the 1 lakh-mark on February 2 at 92,469, below the 50,000-mark on February 5 at 45,742, below 20,000 on February 11 at 18,229, and below 10,000 on Wednesday to 9,955.

A health worker takes a swab sample from a passenger at Kempegowda Bus Station in Bengaluru on Wednesday

The rapid and huge fall in the number of active cases has been characterized by massive margins in percentage points, ranging from 21.57 per cent drop on February 1 to 9.24 per cent drop on February 13.

However, active cases have never fallen below 4,000 between the second and third wave of the pandemic, with 4,833 being the lowest number as recorded on November 30. Between the first and second waves, the active cases in the city had fallen to a low of 3,800 cases on January 30, 2021, after which it rapidly rose due to the Delta variant of the virus, known to be much more severe than the Omicron, although the infection spread of the latter was 70 per cent higher than the former.

Statewide, the active caseload has fallen from a third wave high of 3,62,487 on January 24 to 23,284 on Wednesday. It dropped below the 1 lakh-mark on February 6, and in ten days further dropped to the current figure -- highlighting the lower severity of the Omicron and its sub-lineages.

HC orders law varsity to finish 2nd, 4th sem exams

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @BENGALURU

THE Karnataka High Court directed the Karnataka State Law University to take steps forthwith to complete the process of examination/evaluation of the students of second and fourth semesters of the three-year LL.B course.

A division bench of Justices Justice SG Pandit and Justice Anant Ramanath Hegde of the Karnataka HC directed the university to determine the mode of examination - online/offline/blended/online open book exam (OBE)/assignment based evaluation (ABE) /research papers as suggested by the Bar Council of India (BCI), and other relevant documents within ten days while setting aside the order passed by a single bench on December 14, 2021.

The university was also ordered to ensure that the time gap prescribed under the rules, if any, for conducting examination/evaluation. The court noted that it is for the university and academicians to decide about the curriculum and mode/methodology of the examination, and added that it is not for the students to dictate the terms to the university regarding how to conduct the examination or evaluation.

The Supreme Court, in a catena of decisions, has made it clear that in matters relating to policy decisions concerning educational institutions, the decisions are to be left to the academicians and experts in the field of education. Thus, "we are of the considered opinion that the order of the Single Judge directing the university to promote the students of the second and fourth semesters is not proper, and more so in a situation, when such a prayer is not made by the petitioners," the bench said.

FOUR STUDENTS ON JOY RIDE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IN a case of drunk driving, four students were killed, and two injured after a speeding car rammed into a road median and collided with a truck. The incident took place on Hoskote Highway (NH-75) in the early hours on Wednesday. The deceased are Vaishnavi (21), Bharath (22), Cyril (21), and Venkatesh (22. All were from Chittoor and Madanapalli in Andhra Pradesh, and BBA students at the Garden City college. The injured - Siri Krishna and Ankit Reddy - are undergoing treatment at a private hospital in Hoskote and are said to be critical.

Preliminary investigation revealed that all of them were staying at PG at TC Palya near RK Puram, and decided to go for a fun drive, a senior police officer said. Venkatesh had borrowed the car, carrying a Tamil Nadu registration, from his friend. After consuming alcohol at an eatery shop in Narasapura near Kolar, they were on their way towards the city around 2 am. While passing Attur Gate, Venkatesh, who was on the wheels, and inebriated, lost control and crashed into a road median before colliding with a truck coming from the opposite direction.

The police and the passers-by had to put a lot of effort to recover the bodies from the mangled car. Venkatesh and Reddy were on the front seats while the rest were sitting behind. The Hosakote police found a few bottles of liquor inside the car, and a case of reckless driving along with drink and drive have been registered against Venkatesh.

The police are yet to take the statements of the two injured.

DKS, KSE trade 'traitor' barbs in House

Bedlam prevails as MLAs from both sides back the two leaders; Speaker Kageri's efforts to restore peace goes in vain

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHAOS reigned in the Assembly on Wednesday with Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister KS Eshwarappa and KPCC president DK Shivakumar charging at each other, making personal attacks.

When Opposition leader Siddaramiah and other Congress members were demanding Eshwarappa's removal from the cabinet, Speaker Vishweshwara Hegde Kageri insisted that he wanted to hear the RDPR minister's side as charges were made against him in the adjournment motion. Shivakumar, however, opposed it and said Eshwarappa cannot be allowed to speak. "There is no need to listen to the 'desha drohi' (traitor)," he thundered.

Angered by this, Eshwarappa retorted saying, "The Assembly is not your father's property. We all know who is 'desha drohi'. You indulged in loot and even went to jail for your 'desha droha' and are out on bail now. I don't need to learn from you.'

When Shivakumar and some Congress MLAs approached the treasury benches where Eshwarppa was sitting, the latter got up from his seat and charged towards them, leading to heated exchanges. Speaker Kageri's warnings went in vain and chaotic scenes prevailed as legislators from both sides stood up in support of their leaders and got into a war of words. Marshals, along with some MLAs from both sides, tried to pacify the lawmakers, but the shouting match continued even after the House was adjourned.

What about farmers' issues, ask politicos

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

WITH the hijab and the national flag issue consuming the time of the legislature during the ongoing special session, several political leaders have expressed concern over other important issues like bagair hukum land for landless farmers, reliable power supply, support price for agriculture produce and water woes being ignored. They also pointed out that the previous session was dominated by the alleged religious conversion issue.

A senior Congress leader lamented, "The last session was taken up by the conversion issue and this session is being consumed by the hijab and national flag issues. When do we take up real issues that concern the people in the duration of the session?"

> There are many important issues like farmers' problems, inter-state water sharing. But no one wants to address them?
> HD Kumaraswamy, JDS leader

Asked about it, Congress leader and former MLA Madhu Bangarappa said, "I agree bagair hukum land is a major issue. I had taken out a 130-km padayatra and the authorities need to address it immediately. Many have taken loans on bagair hukum lands and are in a quandary. The government needs to address the issues of farmers and about employment generation."

JDS leader H D Kumaraswamy said, "There are many important issues like farmers' problems, inter-state water sharing, the problems faced by students due to closure of schools, etc. But no one wants to address them."

JDS deputy leader in the Assembly, Bandeppa Kashempur, said, "The national flag is important, but there are other serious issues which need to be addressed — MSP for ragi, paddy and tur, unemployment and closure of schools."

Farmer leader Kodihalli Chandrashekar pointed out, "Former CM B S Yediyurappa started his political career a few decades ago by taking up the bagair hukum land issue. But even now, the issue remains unresolved. Farmers get barely two hours of power in the morning and two hours in the evening whereas they need at least 12 hours supply. While we are commercially exporting power, can't the government consider the needs of farmers also?"

Council rejects adjournment motion plea against minister

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Opposition Congress' demand for Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Minister K S Eshwarappa's dismissal from the Cabinet and registration of a sedition case against him for his comment on hoisting a saffron flag at Red Fort in New Delhi led to commotion in the Legislative Council on Wednesday.

Council Chairman Basavaraj Horatti rejected the Congress' plea to move an adjournment motion against the minister after Opposition Leader B K Hariprasad made a preliminary submission. "The minister insulted the national flag. Instead of dismissing him, the Chief Minister and the Governor are mute spectators," Hariprasad said.

When the Congress leader took a swipe at the RSS and accused it of not hoisting the national flag at its headquarters for many years, BJP members took strong objection and accused him of deviating from the subject. Members of both the BJP and the Congress engaged in heated arguments on several occasions when the preliminary submission was being made and even after Congress' request was rejected.

Law and Parliamentary Minister J C Madhuswamy said a part of Eshwarappa's statement, made in response to a question by media persons, was taken out of context. The minister had not insulted the national flag at all, he insisted.

After the Congress members continued to protest in the well of the House demanding the minister's dismissal, the House was adjourned for the day.

MLAs demand nat'l poet title for Kanavi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CUTTING across party lines, legislators in the Assembly on Wednesday demanded that the government confer the 'Rashtrakavi' title on poet Chennaveera Kanavi, who passed away in Dharwad on Wednesday. The members also paid condolence to the poet and also to former MLA H D Chowdaiah, who passed away on Tuesday night.

Opposition leader Siddaramaiah said Kanavi should have got the Jnanpith award. "He had all the eligibility to become a 'Rashtrakavi'. He should get the status at least now," the former chief minister said.

Senior BJP MLA Jagadish Shettar said there is a demand to confer the 'Rashtrakavi' status on Kanavi from his readers and fans. "The government should work towards this," he said.

Paying his tributes, Chief Minister M Basavaraj Bommai, who had visited the ailing poet at the hospital recently, said budding writers should take inspiration from such great litterateurs and rise to glory.

"Kanavi was one of the most creative writers of the Kannada literary world. He and his family were very close to me for the last four decades. He personified humility and won the hearts of people with his soft-spoken and gentle nature," Bommai said in a statement. Bommai said he had never seen Kanavi losing his temper. "He has been honoured with many prestigious awards, including the Nadoja award. He raised the stature of the awards... such was his credibility," Bommai recalled.

The CM also said that the State Government is ready to provide all assistance to the literary world.

'HE SHOULD BE DROPPED FROM THE CABINET'

"UNDER the Prevention of Insults to National Honour Act, anything spoken against the national flag is punishable with imprisonment for three years or fine or both. Disrespecting the national flag, the Constitution or the national anthem falls under sedition. Eshwarappa should be dropped from the cabinet and a case should be booked against him," Siddaramaiah said.

Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhu Swamy said Opposition party members should read the full text of the minister's statement and not create a controversy by reading just parts of it. "He made the statement when some TV news channels asked him about the saffron flag becoming the national flag, for which the minister said that it may become the national flag sometime in the future and it may be hoisted at the Red Fort. But he also made it clear that the Tricolour is the national flag now and it should be respected by everyone. Where is the question of Eshwarappa insulting the flag," he asked.

When Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri wanted Eshwarappa to reply to the allegations, state Congress president DK Shivakumar objected, saying the minister should not be allowed to speak. This triggered heated exchanges between the two leaders and they passed personal remarks against each other. Shivakumar and some Congress MLAs charged towards the minister, while some MLAs tried to pacify them and the marshals stepped in.

Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said Shivakumar is misleading people by saying that the national flag would be brought down and saffron flag hoisted, which led to further chaos. Congress MLAs accused Araga of not taking any action though the incident occurred in his home district of Shivamogga.

As the pandemonium prevailed, Kageri directed the staff to switch off the mikes of members and adjourned the House till afternoon. When the session resumed, Congress members rushed to the well of the House holding national flags. Kageri adjourned the House till Thursday morning.

Bommai says Oppn leaders violated flag code

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai flayed Congress leaders over their conduct in the Assembly on Wednesday, saying the party has failed to perform its duties as a responsible opposition.

He also charged that the party had violated the flag code by displaying the national flag during the protest in the Assembly over Minister K S Eshwarappa's statement.

Speaking to reporters, Bommai said the national flag code defines use of the national flag and it should never be misused. "But the Congress MLAs have misused the national flag with political motives. The party has been marginalised across the country because of such behaviour of its leaders. People are watching them and the party, which prides itself on having a 100-year history, will further lose its importance in the coming days," the CM said.

Defending Eshwarappa's statement, Bommai said the minister's statement did not amount to any violation of the law. "The Congress is trying to mislead the people of the state and the House by using certain parts of his statement."

RSS hand in KSE statement: Siddu

Bengaluru: Leader of Opposition in the Assembly Siddaramaiah on Wednesday alleged that the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh and Sangh Parivar had a hand in RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa's statement that the saffron flag will replace the national flag at the Red Fort in the national capital. "We will continue our struggle inside the house and outside until Eshwarappa is removed from the ministry," he said while addressing a joint conference with state Congress president D K Shivakumar after the Speaker adjourned the session. He said the Congress has the option to stage an overnight dharna in the house if the demand is not met by Thursday. "They also have a hidden agenda of changing the Constitution of India," Siddaramaiah said. ENS

PU colleges restart, students in hijab barred at many places

ENS @ Bengaluru

WITH PU colleges reopening across the state on Wednesday after a brief closure, several incidents of girls wearing the hijab being barred from entering educational institutions were reported from across the state. In Bengaluru, however, the situation remained mostly calm.

Following several rounds of deliberations, classes were restarted on Wednesday in PU colleges. The Bengaluru police had not been deployed near colleges but were on high alert to prevent any kind of untoward incidents. Security for colleges was largely managed by college security personnel. Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said peace reigned in the state, save for a few incidents in other districts.

In light of incidents where teachers were forced to remove their hijabs before entering schools, Bengaluru school managements had taken precautions to prevent any such case.

Meanwhile, nearly 100 students of various colleges in Kodagu district returned home after being barred from entering the college premises with headscarves. In Udupi, 20 students were denied entry to classes, while at the Women's Government PU College, Udupi, the six girls who first sought permission to wear the hijab, abstained from attending classes.

In Tumakuru, tension prevailed at the century-old Government Empress PU College for Girls when a group of students staged a protest on being denied entry into the campus wearing burqa and hijab. Many PU college students as well as high school students in Shivamogga refused to remove the hijab and returned home.

Similar incidents were also reported in Belagavi, Vijayapura and Hubballi.

WILL FOLLOW HC ORDER ON DRESS CODE: CM

BENGALURU: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday said the State Government will follow the High Court order on the dress code for schools and colleges. "Wherever there is a dress code, the High Court order is applicable," the CM replied to Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah, who raised the issue during Zero Hour.

Interim order misinterpreted: Clerics

BENGALURU: Muslim Ulemas and members of allied organisations on Wednesday claimed that certain educational institutions have been misinterpreting the orders passed by the Karnataka High Court over the hijab controversy. "The order clarified that hijab is not to be allowed only in colleges where College Development Committees (CDCs) have prescribed a uniform. Hence, the interim order is not applicable to schools at all. But the authorities have been imposing it on young girls violating their right to privacy," said Moulana Mufti Iftikar Ahmed Qasmi, president of Jamiat-e-Ulema, Karnataka. Addressing a joint press conference, they alleged that Prime Minister Narendra Modi has not been practising the 'beti bachao' and 'beti padhao' initiatives in letter and spirit.

Minister does U-turn on dress code

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

A day after he said that degree colleges do not have any dress code and students are free to wear anything, even the hijab, Higher Education Minister C N Ashwath Narayan did a volte-face on Wednesday.

In a series of tweets, he said the High Court interim order is clear that students have to stick to uniforms wherever educational institutions or college development committees (CDC) have prescribed them and the same applies to PUC and degree colleges, whether private or government.

In another tweet, he said, "All students must strictly comply with the interim court order on uniform/dress code.

In colleges where there are no prescribed uniform guidelines, students should strictly adhere to the norms of college development committees (CDC).

The minister's U-turn led to severe confusion in Udupi and Dakshina Kannada on Wednesday. In Mangaluru police commissionerate limits, at least four colleges refused entry to 49 hijab-clad students who had to return home.

'No provision to prohibit hijab'

Arguing before the full bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi, and Justices Krishna S Dixit and JM Khazi, Kumar said there is no provision in law to prohibit hijab. He pointed out that bangles, bindi, crucifix and turban are also religious symbols. "Is wearing these not breaking the uniformity? Why pick on only these poor Muslim girls for wearing the hijab?" he argued.

Support for protesting girls

"Post the interim order, we are witness to the public humiliation of Muslim students and staff, who are being forced to remove their hijab before entering schools and colleges, purportedly on instructions of the district administration. This disrobing of Muslim girls and women in public view is inhuman, derogatory and an affront to the Constitution and amounts to public humiliation of the entire community," the letter read.

The letter has been signed by 765 people, including lawyers, law students, professors, journalists, writers and teachers. In the light of the recent happenings, the signatories have asked the High Court to pass prohibitory orders to prevent any such "derogatory practices".

Uddhav, KCR to discuss third front

To look at efforts to bring non-BJP parties together for 2024 LS elections

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad/Mumbai

TELANGANA Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao's efforts bring together non-BJP parties on a common platform to fight the 2024 Lok Sabha elections got a fillip on Wednesday, with Maharashtra CM Uddhav Thackeray inviting him to visit Mumbai on Sunday.

Sources said both the CMs are expected to discuss the formation of a third alternative to the BJP.

"Uddhavji, Sharad Pawar, Mamata Banerjee, Rahul Gandhi, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra and Akhilesh Yadav all are in contact with each other and very soon, there will be a larger alliance against the BJP," said Shiv Sena leader Sanjay Raut.

An official release from Rao's office said Thackeray spoke to him on Wednesday expressed full support to KCR's fight for federal justice and against the anti-people policies pursued by the BJP.

Thackeray, according to the release, said: "KCR ji, you are fighting very hard. Yours is a just struggle. You raised your voice at the right time to protect this country from divisive forces. You must continue to fight for the rights of the States and for the integrity of the country. Go forward with the same spirit. Our support is totally with you."

Thackeray's invite, according to experts, is significant as the Sena leadership is known to restrict themselves to Maharashtra politics.

"For the first time, Thackeray has taken the step to go out and be part of a larger alliance. Winning the Dadra Nagar Haveli bypolls has boosted the Sena's confidence," said a political observer.

Firefighters try to contain the fire at a mushroom cultivation facility in Orvakal on Wednesday

Search on for 5-yr-old girl trapped in inferno

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kurnool

POLICE and Fire personnel continue to frantically search for a five-year-old girl, who is suspected to have gotten trapped in an inferno that gutted nearly 2,000 tonnes of grass at a private factory in Orvakal of Kurnool district. The loss is estimated at Rs two crore.

According to Fire department officials, the grass was stocked at the five-acre premises of a privately-owned mushroom cultivation facility. Dry paddy grass is used in the process of growing mushrooms.

A lorry came into the premises with dry grass and when it unloaded, a fire was suddenly ignited, eyewitnesses said. As thick smoke billowed, the 200-odd workers ran for safety, but a girl, said to be Muneera, was allegedly trapped in the heaps of grass.

Fire tenders rushed to the spot and are trying to douse the flames, Kurnool District Fire Officer Prabhakar Yadav said.

Cause unknown

Yadav said the cause of fire is yet to be ascertained. They, however, suspect that some workers might have thrown a lit cigarette butt or a beedi, leading to the mishap. "We have no clue whether the girl was trapped in the burning grass or not," he said. Fire-fighting operations wre under way when reports came in last.

WITH B'GHATTA ASSESSMENT COMPLETE, TIGER CENSUS ENDS IN MOST FORESTS

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

WITH the final walk of forest department staffers at Bannerghatta National Park (BNP) in the transect survey, the tiger census exercise has drawn to a close at most prime tiger reserves, national parks and wildlife sanctuaries in the state.

The sign survey was done in BNP last week, while the transect survey started on Monday. The census exercise now remains to be held in Kali Tiger Reserve, and as per permission from the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA), it will be done in March.

A total of 230 staffers patrolled the national park on foot, spread across 260 sqkms, covering 23 beats. The forest department drew 23 transect lines and a total of 69 trails were covered.

Of the total 194 camera traps allotted to be installed in BNP, so far, 80 have been fixed and the remaining 114 will be fixed in the next two days.

The BNP is important for the census exercise as it falls at the tip of the Western Ghats connecting Cauvery Wildlife Sanctuary and is also part of the elephant corridor, linked to Tamil Nadu. During the last census, BNP was not covered, as the lone wandering male tiger was not noted in 2018. Now, as reports of the forest patch housing two more tigers are making the rounds, camera trapping, identifying and noting them has become crucial for the NTCA and Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change.

"Due to BNP's proximity to Bengaluru, many had applied to volunteer for the census. But in the wake of Covid restrictions, we decided not to involve anyone. Since it is also the dry fire season, we wanted to be more cautious," Deputy Conservator of Forests, BNP, Ramesh Kumar told TNIE. Officials from the forest department pointed out that the survey plays a crucial role because the fragmented forest patch has a contiguous boundary, which is also part of the elephant corridor.

WORLD WATCHES UKRAINE WITH BATED BREATH, INDIA IN A TOUGH SPOT

Are things in Ukraine settling down? Are Russian troops getting pulled back? Well, the answer is a muddled yes and no. Market indicators seem to point to an imminent de-escalation (of some form or degree). And yet, precautionary measures taken by the government of Ukraine make it clear that the cloud of war still hangs heavy over the nation.

A cautious New Delhi has called for its citizens to return home, even while surging airfares place the barrier for entry higher than most can afford (a lot of Indian students don't have wealthy parents to pay for their escape). India is, in fact, caught between a rock and a hard place, occupying a uniquely delicate, even precarious, position—Russia is, of course, a long-time military-ware supplier; but the US (and by extension NATO, in a sense) is a newfound strategic ally. Further complicating matters, we have the fact that Russia has been getting increasingly chummy with both Pakistan (PM Imran Khan has been invited to Moscow even in midst of the current unrest!) and China. The whole conjuncture is a foreign policy puzzle, if there ever was one. It is certainly in the best interest of both the European Union and India (and the whole rest of the world, really), that any full-blown conflict—reminiscent of what the Cuban Missile Crisis could have brought—may be averted at any cost.

Multi-level behind-the-scenes negotiations notwithstanding, all that Moscow has admitted to as of yet is that its "troops have returned to the bases after exercise". The world and world market, meanwhile, have been watching the goings-on in rapt attention, wondering what may happen next. US President Joe Biden, committed to playing his part as the "protector" (bound as his nation is, by way of treaty, to NATO/European allies), doesn't buy this pull-out claim at all. To the 1,30,000 troops that Moscow is said to have amassed, Biden has added 20,000 more. No exact figures regarding the troops and their supposed retreat is available. As things stand, both sides are looking for a face-saver that won't compromise the integrity of the European security architecture. Hopefully, a deal is brokered without delay—not just for Kiev, but for the rest of us as well.

ROAD SAFETY IN NATION CONTINUES TO BE A SHAM

Union Road Transport and Highways Minister Nitin Gadkari recently said his ministry is planning to approach the Supreme Court to challenge the 2021 judgment by the Madras High Court that brought speed limits down. The court in August 2021 had quashed a 2018 Central government notification that raised the speed limit to 120 kmph on expressways and 100 kmph on national highways, and ordered the restriction of the speed to 80 kmph citing over-speeding as a prime reason for accidents.

In a country where road safety continues to be a sham, any move to increase the speed limit should be accompanied by serious efforts to reduce road accidents. The provisional data from the TN transport department tells us a grim story: nearly 15,000 people perished on the roads in the state in 2021, a massive 42% increase from the pre-pandemic year of 2019. What is striking is that the graph has taken a V-turn, and reversed the trend of falling numbers in previous years.

The fall in 2020 was not surprising, thanks to the stringent lockdown imposed by the Centre that banned travel. But the big leap in 2021 is worrying. Experts and government officials attribute the jump to the increased usage of private vehicles as social distancing is the new norm. Many people are riding two-wheelers for hundreds of kilometres between cities. Lack of knowledge about road conditions and more inexperienced drivers on long-distance journeys could also have contributed to the spike in the number of fatalities.

As usual, the rains have disembowelled roads across the country and driving has become a pain. A quick redressal system needs to be in place to remedy these potential killer traps. Drunken driving should invite a more stringent punishment while rules on lane discipline need to be strictly implemented. While suggesting that the speed limit on expressways should be raised to 140 km per hour, Gadkari also wants to reduce road accidents by 50% by 2025. But given the trend of increasing number of accidents and fatalities, it may be a Herculean task.

Do low interest rates actually boost growth? Of late though, the conventional wisdom is being questioned by a growing body of thinkers and researchers

THE SIDE EFFECTS OF LOW INTEREST RATES

PROSENJIT DATTA

Senior business journalist

SOUMYADIP SINHA

When a central bank decides to keep interest rates low, it is taking a calculated bet. It is gambling that the benefits of the low rates to the economy will be higher than its negative side effects.

Low interest rates are supposed to help spur growth. The theory is that low rates will encourage governments, businesses and consumers to borrow and spend more freely. This will result in higher demand by consumers and investments by corporations, leading to higher GDP growth and job creation. This leads to a virtuous cycle in the economy—higher GDP growth and job creation will lead to increased income, which will lead to higher consumption and so on and so forth.

Of course, the monetary policy needs to maintain a balance between economic growth and high inflation. If low interest rates result in inflation going out of hand and the creation of asset bubbles, the central bank will raise rates even if it means being less encouraging to borrowers.

When the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) chose to keep the policy rate unchanged, and the policy stance accommodative, it explained its rationale clearly. It expected inflation—though high currently—to moderate to acceptable limits going forward. Also, the Monetary Committee Policy (MPC) had decided to support growth as long as necessary through an accommodative policy stance.

Quite a few economists noted that the RBI's assumption that inflation will moderate soon is too optimistic. The Consumer Price Index (CPI), which the MPC tracks for recommending the policy rate, has been at the higher end of the comfort zone for some time. The Wholesale Price Index (WPI), which was earlier used for setting the interest rate till the Urjit Patel Committee recommended using the CPI as the primary anchor, has been in double digits for several months now. The danger of crude prices spiking because of global tensions and upsetting the inflation calculations is very real.

But even if the inflation moderates, as the RBI expects, it is hard to ignore the side effects of keeping rates low for too long. Low rates are terrible for savers. A combination of high inflation and low rates will rapidly erode the value of money kept in a bank. For much of last year, this has been exactly the case—the interest rates have been lower than inflation. It has hit the retired and the poor, who primarily keep much of their money in bank fixed deposits and savings accounts.

Central banks still think that if the virtuous effects of low interest rates—that is high growth and employment—are achieved without inflation going out of hand, the trade-off is worthwhile. But do low interest rates actually boost growth? Of late though, the conventional wisdom is being questioned by a growing body of thinkers and researchers.

Studies show that while high real interest rates do act as a dampener to investment and GDP growth, the converse is not necessarily true. Low real interest rates will not automatically increase investment, consumption or GDP growth. Other factors come in—capacity utilisation may be too low for fresh investment in new factories. Several studies found no or at best a weak link between low interest rates and higher growth.

> Low rates are terrible for savers. A combination of high inflation and low rates will rapidly erode the value of money kept in a bank. For much of last year, this has been exactly the case—the interest rates have been lower than inflation. It has hit the retired and the poor, who primarily keep much of their money in bank fixed deposits and savings accounts

Also, low interest rates may not necessarily induce poor consumers—and India has a large number of those—to borrow and consume more. There is a fair amount of research that suggests that low interest rates can increase inequality because the rich are more likely to gain from this than the poor or very poor.

Low interest rates may also not help smaller businesses much, says a recent paper. The research by Ernest Liu of Princeton University, Atif Mian of Princeton University and NBER, and Amir Sufi of Chicago Booth School of Business and NBER suggests that low interest rates increase market concentration and lead to creation of monopolies or oligopolies.

While much of the research has been conducted in developed nations, the current economic recovery in India could well be seeing something like this too. Economists have pointed at India's K-shaped recovery where a few have benefitted while others have fallen sharply behind. Big companies have benefitted and increased market share, revenues and profits sharply. They have also taken advantage of low interest rates to decrease the cost of their borrowings. Small and medium companies, struggling with falling revenues and cash flows, have not been able to take advantage of the rates.

Similarly, while the pandemic has increased the wealth of a small slice of the population, it has devastated the fortunes of the vast majority of the middle class and poor, hitting their incomes and savings. A slice of the erstwhile middle income households pre-pandemic have been pushed to the ranks of the poor—while a large number of the poor have been pushed to extreme poverty after two years of Covid-19.

In the next meeting of the monetary policy committee, these are some of the things the RBI may want to examine closely—and check if the side effects of its low policy rates do not outweigh its assumed benefits.

PIPE DREAMS FOR INDIAN ACADEMIA — II

SHONALEEKA KAUL

Associate Professor, Centre for Historical Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University

In the New Year, it is customary to wish for good things to happen. In the first of this two-part series accordingly, we inaugurated a list of aspirations for higher education in India, starting with the need to free the field of both bureaucratic strangleholds as well as commercial monopolies over knowledge production and dissemination. Concomitantly, in this age of internet-driven fake narratives and disinformation, the need for qualitative self-reform by the academy, especially in the humanities, to facilitate the emergence of authentic versions of truth and knowledge, was also asserted.

However, what defines an authentic version of knowledge? Indeed who defines what knowledge is, in the first place? And who may be regarded as an authority? These are ethical as well as political questions. Even as it is essential to reform Indian universities and infuse in them greater rigour and quality, it must also be recognised that a good bit of the teaching done at these formal centres of higher learning today, especially in our metropolises, tends to rely on imported Euro-American theories, concepts, methods and ideologies.

Vastly engaging and erudite though these are, only a few of them may illumine culturally specific historical processes and worldviews of the non-West, while others may well inflict varieties of epistemic violence on endogenous ways of knowing. On the other hand, how many local thinkers, past or present, ancient or modern, can you name who are taught and applied in mainstream Indian universities today—pedagogical spaces which otherwise resound with Foucalt, Heidegger and the like?

Indeed, illustrative of colonial epistemic hierarchies is my own discipline of history, which continues to creak under the burden of 19th century European Enlightenment notions of scientism, objectivism and materialism, as if it were a physical science rather than a humanistic field. This has led to the delegitimising and rejection of vast swathes of traditional Indian literature and thought for their emphasis on human values, aesthetics, ethics, liberation or other subjectivities. Sterile facts versus meaning and values are two different civilisational weltenschauungs. In championing Western notions of history today that have become dated in the West itself, we are perpetuating an imperialism and backwardness that are of our own making.

Mind you, this is not a call for nativism or some brand of indigenist reaction. Far from it. This is a call for radically rethinking anachronistic and etic approaches to India and letting our profound and prodigious knowledge traditions—in every one of the hundreds of languages and dialects we have—speak for themselves. This will enrich and refresh international academic discourse as well, just as all other thought from the Global South is doing, and the world will thank us for it—for being what India always was in the past, an intellectual giant.

> A good bit of the teaching done at India's formal centres of higher learning today, especially in our metropolises, tends to rely on imported Euro-American theories, concepts, methods and ideologies. ... How many local thinkers, past or present, can you name who are taught and applied in mainstream Indian universities today—pedagogical spaces which otherwise resound with Foucalt, Heidegger and the like?

Within the country as well, this may be the way forward: There has to be dialogue between Anglophone academicians and vernacular scholarship, and on equal terms. And here in the vernaculars one includes the whole range from classical pan-Indic languages like Sanskrit to regional languages and dialects, and from texts and literary cultures to oral traditions and folk narratives.

All too many students from small towns and villages of India come to study in the megalopolises diffident and on the back foot—because they don't know English or don't know it well enough. No doubt multilingualism is the need of the hour in the globalised world we inhabit, and we encourage students to learn English, but there is nothing intrinsically superior in one language over others. Our students need the confidence to know that language is a skill, not a liability, and must be the medium for trans-cultural conversations, mediating faithfully between their own thought-worlds and international ones. If this conversation has to be in English for now, so be it; what is even more important than decolonising the tongue is decolonising the mind.

That said, the Colonial 'Other' is not the only occupying force when it comes to Indian intellect. Academic circles, again in the social sciences and liberal arts particularly, are also in the thrall of a different kind of regime: the warring twin camps of Left and Right politics. There seems to be little intellectual engagement of substance between the two but plenty of disdain, name-calling and power lust. Worst of all, there is negligible space for independent scholarship that does not conform—and is promptly branded! It is high time to emancipate Indian academia from the tyranny of these labels.

One has no doubt that there are a large number of scholars in this country doing fresh and creative work, especially studying our vibrant traditions on their own terms, who are tired of being asked to see and show things through the prism of politics. But they are invisibilised and disenfranchised more often than not. Here is an exclusionist conspiracy of silence within the very bastion of freedom that academics like to believe they represent.

To those who speak for education's powers of resistance and calling out oppression, here is the challenge within. Will we overcome it? One can only hope so. For, as Nelson Mandela said, "To be free is not merely to cast off one's chains, but to live in a way that respects and enhances the freedom of others."

Govt banks defrauded

Bank frauds have become common irrespective of the party in power at the Centre. The latest shocker is the case of ABG Shipyard, which has defrauded a consortium of banks of over ₹22,000 crore. Almost all PSU banks are in the red due to fraud by seemingly respectable businesses. Unfortunately successive governments have allowed such fraudsters to bleed the banks and not taken stringent action.

Will third front work?

The idea of a third front has been heard many times. Recently Mamata Banerjee, KCR, Uddhav Thackeray and M K Stalin are trying to form one. But as seen in the recent past, it has not been effective and often fails to act as a good opposition. It's because there is no proper coordination and leadership. Further, every leader appears to be selfish and doesn't think about the interests of other parties.

Disillusioned with politics

This is with reference to Punjab youth largely cynical of parties, polls (Feb 16). The greatest wealth and strength of any nation is its youth, and it is sad to see the resentment and disillusionment that the youngsters have towards the political class. Rather than focusing on the real issues of unemployment and malaise of drugs, all parties indulge in rhetoric, with the sole intention of polarising the electorate to garner votes. Politics is now the first resort of scoundrels, not the last. The younger generation is looking for greener pastures to make a living, and our politicians are turning a blind eye to what is happening.

Fishermen held again

Tamil Nadu fishermen being arrested by the Sri Lankan Navy for crossing the International Maritime Boundary Line has become commonplace of late and recently, 12 more Rameshwaram fishermen near Katchatheevu were arrested. In spite of so much technological growth, no solution has been found for the fishermen to identify the boundary line and because of the arrests, their livelihood is lost. The prime minister recently donated houses for the citizens of northern Sri Lanka as well as anti-corona vaccines to the people of the country. He should intervene and find an amicable solution to this long-standing problem.

Test for AIADMK

The BJP has decided to test the strength of the AIADMK and also its own progress made in Tamil Nadu and is contesting the urban local body elections alone. The outcome of the polls will show whether the AIADMK can retain its support base.

Composite Odisha motif

This is with reference to The Navagunjara motif of Odisha (Feb 16). Navagunjara, a manifestation of the cosmic form of Vishnu as visualised by Arjuna, has made its presence felt in the paintings and literature of Odisha. I was not aware of this composite form made of nine beings earlier. The newspaper deserves kudos for publishing such culture-oriented pieces.

Badal attacks parties 'controlled' by Delhi

Chandigarh: Claiming that Shiromani Akali Dal has presence throughout villages in Punjab and can understand people's aspirations better than anyone, party chief Sukhbir Badal said he is confident voters will time choose the state-based party and not those which are "remote-controlled by Delhi". Badal said the BSP is a "much better ally" than the BJP and ruled out the possibility of coming together with the saffron party again.

Central security to BJP leaders in poll states

New Delhi: The Union government has provided central security cover to around 24 BJP leaders in poll-bound Uttar Pradesh and Punjab, including 'Z' category cover to Union minister S P S Baghel, the party candidate against SP chief Akhilesh Yadav, officials said on Wednesday. Some candidates will be provided security till the poll process ends, officials added. Some of the protectees will have the central cover over and above their state police security.

Lucknow: Bahujan Samaj Party supremo Mayawati appealed to voters on Wednesday to extend their full support to her party in the ongoing UP polls, saying it is the only well-wisher of the people of the state. This will be your true tribute to him."

Sand mining storm sweeps netas, not voters in Punjab

Ear to the Ground
PUNJAB POLLS

H KHOGEN SINGH
@ Amritsar/Gurdaspur/Jalandhar (Punjab)

Villagers say sand mining came to a standstill after polls were announced

> Sand mining takes place on the Satluj river but we are not concerned. We want a government that works for the people, not one that makes empty promises only — Kulwant Singh, farmer

A TWO-KILOMETRE walk through wheat fields and a eucalyptus tree-lined mud track from Rorewal village in rural Amritsar leads to the banks of the river Ravi, where two abandoned earthmovers and mounds of sand lie across the river, cutting a defining image of the lucrative mining business.

With no living-being, man or animal, anywhere in the vicinity, the surroundings are eerie, the oppressive stillness of the air broken only by the occasional revving of tractor engines in the distance. It was from this village that in 2019, the police arrested two persons for illegal sand excavation.

Rorewal locals said the earthmovers stopped their digging and sand-laden tipper trucks ended their undulating trips from the river banks about two months back, or around the time the elections were announced in the state.

The villagers, mostly landless agriculturalists and buffalo rearers, have heard of the rancorous political mudslinging the sand mining issue has generated in the ongoing elections, especially after the arrest of Punjab Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi's nephew, Bhupinder Singh alias Honey, in a 2018 illegal sand mining case, but they are mostly unmoved.

"Before the excavation stopped trucks loaded with sand used to ply here daily while we went about our business. For us what matters is to get enough food to eat, politics over sand mining doesn't bother us," said Satnam Singh, 48, who rears buffalos.

Sukhvinder Singh, 26, a kirana shop owner, said sand mining was not an illegal activity and the excavation in his village was taking place with government licence. "Why is there so much fuss over sand mining? If rules are being followed then it should not be an issue but if there is something illegal going on then action must take place," he said.

The sense of bemused detachment also runs across Udhowal village, Jalandhar, about 100km away, where panchayat members had complained of official connivance in illegal sand mining in their area in 2019.

"Sand mining takes place on the Satluj river but we are not concerned. We want a government that works for the people, not one that makes empty promises only," said Kulwant Singh, 68, a farmer, before leaving to entertain guests who came on a Mitsubishi Pajero.

Jagjit Singh, 54, a co-villager, was of the view that Channi's nephew had been arrested only because of the election. "The case was registered in 2018, why was no action taken against him for four years," he said, a Congress flag adorning the entrance to his home.

Whether it is Rorewal or Udhowal, the sand mining issue in the languorous towns and villages is only cannon fodder for a smear campaign by the politicians and a topic for prime-time TV debates. For the people on the ground, it is only a subset of the larger issue of corruption in high places.

"So many illegal things are going on. The politicians are involved in drug smuggling, illegal sand mining and corruption. There should be action against all politicians involved in all these activities," said Harbans Ram, 67, a retired arnyman in Sansarpur village, a crucible of Olympic hockey players just outside Jalandhar.

The recent arrest of Honey Singh, Channi's nephew, in an illegal sand mining case has come in handy to throw mud at the chief minister.

The Aam Aadmi Party, the Amarinder Singh-BJP combine and even his voluble and loquacious party colleague, Navjot Singh Sidhu, have targeted him over the issue.

"Channi, Honey and money," is how the meme against the chief minister runs. The opposition will hope that the gathering sand mining storm will blow Channi away, leaving the CM to rue a missed opportunity in its wake. But the voters want jobs and an end to drugs and corruption.

"These issues affect the people immediately, sand mining is a long-term problem," said Kewal Singh, 44, a cloth merchant in Gurdaspur.

Akhilesh is Karhal's natural choice, yet Yogi has backers

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Karhal (UP)

VICTORY of Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav in his debut battle from Karhal in Mainpuri looks certain. With his native village, Saifai, just 4 km away, this is the SP chief's home turf in true sense. Nevertheless, the BJP has moved strategically to make it more than a fight by fielding Union Minister of State for Law and Order and party's Agra MP SP Singh Baghel. The Assembly segment will go to the polls on February 20.

Karhal is an SP fortress and the party has won the seat five times during the last six Assembly elections since 1993.

The main roundabout at Karhal-Ghiror road is bustling with activity in the forenoon. Bharti Yadav has just opened her tailoring shop. Akhilesh is natural choice for Bharti. "Bhaiyya (read Akhilesh) will be elected from here," says Bharti without an iota of doubt. When asked the reason, she says: "It is better that the prince becomes the king and not someone else. Even if Bhaiyya doesn't do anything, we will elect him."

However, non-Yadav OBC and upper caste voters seem divided over their priorities. While Yadavs and Muslims stand strongly behind Akhilesh, the common refrain against SP on the ground is about its poor record on law and order and inefficient implementation of government schemes. Many of them want Akhilesh to win from Karhal but want Yogi to form the government in state.

When it comes to the BJP's OBC vote-base, stray cattle, unemployment and inflation have aggrieved voters, but they are still willing to place their bets on the saffron party.

Poultry farmer Sarvesh Kumar is among the many voters in Karhal who feel price rise, unemployment and stray cattle are major election issues

TNIE @ GROUND ZERO

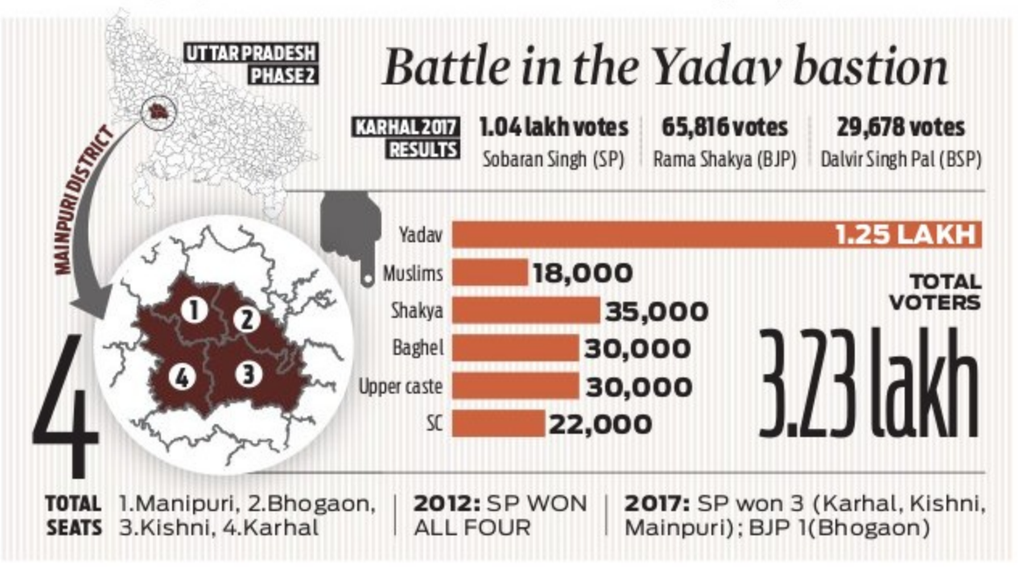
Talk to a cross section of voters and a mixed bag of opinions opens up. "It will not be easy to understand the pulse of the ground as there is a huge community of silent voters," says Vishal Pandey dealing in trade of seeds and fertilizers. Pandey claims that people, except Yadavs, will never spell out their choice. "Many do so to escape intimidation later as they have to live here among Yadavs," he adds.

As one proceeds towards rural pockets, a subtle idea that a journalist is around makes a gathering of villagers at Kanchapura, singing the folk songs awaiting 'Holi', cautious. As the interaction takes off, Prabal Pratap Singh Yadav aka Tillu Yadav, in his late 20s, jumps out claiming the entire Yadav belt and even the state is set to witness the return of Akhilesh as the next CM. Tillu, a farmer, is joined by others of his ilk in Kanchanpura village of Yadavs. "We don't have to have an issue to support Akhilesh, however, if you ask me, unemployment, price rise, lack of development, closed schools, COVID mismanagement are enough to send 'Babaji' back to Gorakhpur," says Dharmendra Yadav.

Going beyond the loyalty towards the Yadav clan, law and order, benefits of Pradhan Mantri Gareeb Vikas Yojna, government housing schemes, and toilets seem to have traction on the ground. "The safety and security of our women can keep us tension-free. Current government has provided this confidence," says Vinay Tiwari of Nagla Pat.

Going further deep into the rural areas, one finds a group of potato growers harvesting their crop. They hail the present law and order situation but lament the stray cattle menace. "Now we are living in peace otherwise in previous dispensation, it was not safe to leave the potato sacs in the fields. Stray cattle are the only issue. Yogi government needs to address it soon," says Awadhesh Mishra of Nagla Pool.

The villages dominated by SCs, including Jatavs, are still committed to BSP. In Nagla Dhani, Sarvesh Kumar, 35, MA in English and engaged in poultry farming, comes out openly in support of 'Behenji', Mayawati. Vocal about price rise and unemployment, Sarvesh says Jatavs won't let the BSP candidate down. But Mahipal, of Jatav community, says he will vote for BJP as "he is getting free ration."



Kejriwal promises traders freedom from extortion

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chandigarh

AAM Aadmi Party (AAP) national convener and Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal on Wednesday made several promises related to security of businessmen, traders and common people of poll-bound Punjab.

Kejriwal, along with party's chief ministerial candidate Bhagwant Mann, announced that after March 10 no leader or officer in the state would intimidate any businessman or get him raided.

"After the formation of AAP government, if any of our MLAs or ministers asks for a share from businessmen, then we will take an immediate action against the leader," Kejriwal said.

He said the leaders of Akali Dal and Congress, while in power, ask traders for share and weekly cuts. If people refuse to pay they are intimidated with the threats of raids. "The businessmen of Punjab are most troubled by corrupt politicians and officers. To eliminate the fear of traders, we will completely eliminate Inspector Raj, Raid Raj and illegitimate tax to create a safe environment for business." Kejriwal appealed to all traders and arhtiyas of Punjab for support and urged them to give a chance to the AAP this time. "Just as we have won the hearts of the traders of Delhi, we will win yours too," the Delhi CM said.

Bhagwant Mann assured businessmen and traders that AAP leaders won't ask for any share from them, but will make them a partner in the government. "Our government will work closely with traders and make new schemes to promote business."

Channi's 'bhaiyya' remark draws flak

CHANDIGARH: Punjab CM Charanjit Singh Channi on Wednesday received backlash after he asked people not to let the "bhaiyyas" of UP, Bihar and Delhi enter the state, a remark apparently aimed at AAP leaders. The word "bhaiyyas" in reference to people from UP and Bihar is considered offensive. In a video circulating on social media, Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra was seen beside Channi when he made the remarks in Rupnagar. AAP national convener Arvind Kejriwal termed it "very shameful". He added that Channi had earlier taunted him over his skin complexion, calling him "kala (dark)". BJP leader Tejasvi Surya targeted Priyanka Gandhi Vadra over this. "Priyanka Vadra Ji calls herself a daughter of UP when she visits the state and claps when people of UP are insulted in Punjab. This is her double character." ENS

Modi to Punjab: AAP a photocopy of Congress, ignore both

> Narendra Modi, PM

Invoking Sant Ravidas at his Pathankot rally, Modi said his government was following the saint-poet's ideals | PTI

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday termed the Aam Aadmi Party as a photocopy of the ruling Congress in Punjab. "If the Congress is the original frame, AAP is its photocopy. One has looted Punjab while the other is involved in scams in Delhi. Despite being 'ek hi thali ke chatte batte' (two sides of the same coin), they are playing 'noora kushti' (mock fight) in Punjab," Modi said at a rally in Pathankot.

He alleged that both Congress and AAP are "partners in crime". "Both are unhappy with the Ayodhya temple or whatever the Indian Army does. Don't tolerate these people," Modi said. "No one has forgotten that AAP took support of the Congress to form the government in Delhi."

"Punjab has decided iss baar pakka parivartan (it's time for change now). The BJP looks at Punjab from the perspective of 'Punjabiyat' whereas its rivals view it through the lens of political prism," said Modi.

Claiming credit for development of the Kartarpur Sahib Corridor (the final resting place of Guru Nanak Dev) in Pakistan, Modi said the Congress failed to keep the place within India during the Partition.

"Did they not understand enough that Guru Nanak Dev Ji's tapobhoomi should be kept with India. Even after the 1965 war, the Congress did not bother to take back the land (the Indian Army had won). In the 1971 war, Delhi should have returned 90,000 Pakistani soldiers on the condition of Kartarpur Sahib's return," he said.

ALVIDA, DISCO KING

An inspiration for generations to come, India's pop god bids adieu

SHILAJIT MITRA

BAPPI Lahiri could stun you in a flash. Years ago, I was crossing the pavement outside The Oberoi Grand in Kolkata. Just then, Bappi da's shiny car cut in, angling for the hotel entrance. There he was, parked in the front seat in his distinctive blue suit, gold chains and shades. A gasp went up — not of surprise at spotting a famous celebrity, but of the sheer improbability of a pop god in flesh.

Flashy and flamboyant, hearty and humorous, Bappi da was a rockstar from the musical heavens. His disco grooves pulsated with sweaty electricity, his melodies caught us unawares. He revitalised the Hindi film music of the 80s and 90s. There was a pulpy, transcendent quality to his sound — a music that cut through vague intellectualisms and put a spring in our steps. He roared and he thundered, undeterred by genres, trends or shifting sensibilities. It's his timelessness that stings as we bid goodbye to the Disco King of India. The celebrated singer, composer and producer passed away in Mumbai on Tuesday night, due to obstructive sleep apnea and other issues. He was 69.

Bappi was born Alokesh Lahiri, to musician parents in Jalpaiguri, West Bengal. Kishore Kumar, the preeminent singer of the time, was his maternal uncle. Bappi learned the tabla at 3, made his first stage appearance at 4. By his early twenties, he was composing for the likes of Lata Mangeshkar and Mukesh. He was seen as a successor to RD Burman, and, in the mid-1970s, got his big break with Zakhmee and Chalte Chalte.

The 80s were a disruptive time for Bollywood music. Bappi was inspired by Rupa Biswas' album Disco Jazz to fuse American influences into his sound.

BAPPI LAHIRI • 1952-2022

He was a drummer, and incorporated the synthesizer into his tracks. He did his most iconic work in this phase, from Armaan and Disco Dancer down to Thanedar, Aaj Ka Arjun, Ghayal and Dushman Devta. Disco Dancer was such a hit that it sealed his legacy with Mithun's. The duo followed it up with Dance Dance, Prem Pratigya, Dalaal and other films.

Bappi collaborated with a vast range of singers (Kishore, Lata, Usha Uthup, Vijay Benedict, Ila Arun, Amit Kumar, Anuradha Paudwal), lyricists (Kaifi Azmi, Anjaan, Farukh Kaiser, Gauhar Kanpuri, Dev Kohli), and other composers (Vishal-Shekhar, Anand Raaj Anand).

He also worked in about 25 films featuring Telugu stars like Krishna, Chiranjeevi, Mohan Babu, Balakrishna, and Suman. He gave Telugu cinema some of its cherished albums in the 90s, including Simhasanam, State Rowdy, Gang Leader, Rowdy Gari Pellam, Rowdy Alludu and Rowdy Inspector.

Beyond films, Bappi da toured the world with his troupe of singers, from the smallest Kolkata venue to stadiums in Dubai. Privately, though, he remained diffident, religious and family-centred. Collaborators recall warm birthday parties and festivals and pujas at his home. His controversies were scarce: some overweening press statements, the occasional plagiarism charge. In 2014, he contested as a BJP candidate from Sreerampur in the Lok Sabha elections but lost.

"I have achieved a lot, but I still want to work," Bappi da once said. He made good on that promise, judging reality shows, doing guest appearances, blessing remakes and rejigs. 'Bumbai Nagariya' from Taxi No. 9211 and 'Ooh La La' from The Dirty Picture are both self-tributes and modern hits. His deep, instinctive need to create will inspire and animate generations to come. Rest in power, Disco King.

More than 1,000 companies to take part in Defexpo

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THIS year's Defence Expo 2022 will see around 1,000 manufacturing companies, including many from other countries. Also, the Indian government expects more agreements regarding defence manufacturing in this edition.

Sources in the Ministry of Defence said, "More than 900 companies which include more than 100 defence and aviation companies from over 55 countries have registered for the 12th edition of Defexpo to be held in Gujarat's Gandhinagar from March 10." This number is expected to rise with improvements in the Covid-19 situation.

Talking about the India-Africas defence dialogue which took place during the Lucknow edition of the Defence Expo in 2020, a source said, "A total of 52 African countries have been invited. So far, 27 of them confirmed their participation."

Overall, sources said, more than 50 defence ministers or service chiefs are to be present during the expo. A total of 1,000 small drones will perform during a defence ministers' dinner by a start-up initiative. These drones had also showcased different sets of manoeuvres during the Beating Retreat on January 29.

Aiming to further boost self reliance in the defence sector, a number of venture capitalists have been invited to the expo. They will identify prospective projects for investment. Last time, around 200 Memorandum of Underlinings (MoUs) were signed between various manufactures which is expected to rise to around 250 this time, said extremely reliable sources in the establishment.

Post of Maritime Security Advisor created

Vice Admiral Kumar elevated to new position as India looks to strengthen naval guard in the wake of new threats

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

VICE Admiral G Ashok Kumar (retd) has been appointed the National Maritime Security Coordinator (NMSC) within the National Security Council Secretariat under National Security Advisor Ajit Doval. Kumar recently retired as Vice Chief of the Naval Staff.

As the NMSC Vice Admiral, Kumar will be entrusted with the responsibility of coordinating between the various ministries and agencies related to maritime matters. The post of maritime coordinator was first proposed by the Group of Ministers formed after the Kargil conflict. The need was felt after the 26/11 Mumbai terror attacks, post which the significance of maritime security including those involving the scattered Indian island territories was realised.

Eventually, the Cabinet Committee on Security cleared the post of NMSC in November 2021. The post of NMSC is the second, after the Military Advisor's post, created to bring in inputs related to military matters. The post of Military Advisor was created in 2011 with Lt Gen Anil Chauhan holding the charge at present.

The NSCS is headed by the NSA and he is also secretary to the apex National Security Council which is headed by the Prime Minister.

Vice Admiral Kumar retired as the Vice Chief of Naval Staff in July 2021. An alumnus of Sainik School Amravathinagar, he was Commissioned in the executive Branch of Indian Navy in 1982.

India has a vast coastline of 7516.6 kilometers which includes 1382 islands spread out. India's Exclusive Economic Zone is spread out in 2.3 million square kilometers.The significance of the post of NMSC can be understood from the fact that India's growth story is majorly maritme dependent.

Indian trade, over 70% which includes the vital crude oil contributing towards the country's growth story, is transported through sea.

Also the security imperatives rising out of the Chinese focus on swift expansion of its maritime forces and increasing sealegs towards the Indian Ocean makes the post of NMSC vital for India's maritime security imperatives.

Helmet to be must for kids on two-wheelers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

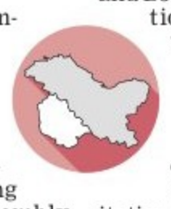
CHILDREN below the age of four must wear helmets and a safety vest while travelling on two-wheelers, as per the new rules notified by the Union Ministry of Road Transport & Highways on Wednesday. The new rules limit the speed of two-wheelers carrying a child below the age of four to 40 km/hr.

Also, children must wear a safety vest that securely attaches them to the driver. "A feature by which this is achieved is by attaching the straps to the back of the vest and crossing the straps over the vest so that two large crossing-over loops are formed that pass between the legs of the passenger and child sits on the seat of the two-wheeler," the ministry said in a statement.

J&K Delimitation Commission likely to get extension of three months

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE Delimitation Commission, which has been tasked to redraw the Assembly and parliamentary constituencies in Jammu and Kashmir after Article 370 revocation and bifurcation of J&K state, is expected to get a three-month extension to complete its job.



The Delimitation Commission headed by former retired judge Ranjana Prakash Desai recently shared its second draft report with the five associate members of J&K proposing major changes in Assembly and parliamentary seats in J&K.

The five MPs from J&K — NC's Farooq Abdullah, Justice (Retd) Hasnain Masoodi and Mohammad Akbar Lone and BJP's Dr Jitendra Singh and Jugal Kishore -- are the associate members of Delimitation Commission.

Since the Delimitation Commission has submitted its second draft report to associate members on February 5 and the associate members of NC and BJP have filed their objections on February 14, it would need some more time for the Commission to prepare its final report. The two-year term of the panel is ending next month.

Sources said the Delimitation Commission would put its draft report along with the dissenting note of the associate members in public domain and seek objections and opinion from the public and political parties for a specified time.

They said after receiving suggestions and objections from public and political parties, the Commission may hold interaction with the public and representatives of political parties in Kashmir and Jammu to get further feedback.

After receiving suggestions and objections, the Delimitation Commission would start working on the final report.

"It may take the Commission over a month to prepare its final report after receiving objections and suggestions from public and parties," sources said adding, "Keeping this in view, Delimitation Commission has sought three months extension from the central government for completing its job". The Delimitation Commission was formed in March 2020.

SC unhappy about tribunal vacancies

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday expressed displeasure over the knee-jerk appointments by the Central government in filling of the tribunal vacancies across the country.

During the hearing, a bench headed by Chief Justice of India N V Ramana hinted that the bureaucracy is taking the issue lightly. "We are getting requests for extension of time for NCLT matters etc. Some knee jerk appointments took place and nothing after that. We don't know the fate of members and many are retiring. Bureaucracy is taking it lightly," the bench remarked. When Attorney General for India KK Venugopal presented the list of vacancies, CJI Ramana said, "No, no we may have to pass orders after hearing it now."

The court has slated the hearing after two weeks. Last year, CJI made similar statement and had told the Solicitor General "The concern is, we must know the clear stand on continuation of tribunals or closing of tribunals. The impression that we are gathering is, it seems that bureaucracy doesn't want these tribunals. We have our own suspicions that some lobbies may be working to not fill these vacancies."

Buddha idol Avalokiteshwara stolen 22 years ago, set to return to India

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

ANOTHER quintessential antiquity, Avalokiteshwara Padamapani, the idol of Buddha is set to return to India soon. The statue installed at Devisthan Kundalpur Temple in Bihar had gone missing more than two decades ago.

The officials of the Archeological Survey of India (ASI) said that the idol had been handed over to the Indian consulate in Milan last week and would reach Delhi within a month.

According to the Survey, the deity was sculpted sometime between the 8th and 12th centuries, which was stolen and smuggled out of the country around 2000.

"The statue made of black stone depicts Buddha holding the stem of a blooming lotus in his left hand with two women attendants sitting at his feet. The figurine briefly surfaced in the art market in France before it was finally traced in India with efforts of India Pride Project, Singapore and Art Recovery International, London," said an official.

The retrieval of the 8-12th century idol of Buddha is another milestone in the efforts being made by the Government to bring back rare and precious antiquities taken out of the country illegally over the years.

It has gotten back about 200 artefacts, mainly statues and idols made of metal, stone, and terracotta in the last seven years. According to the culture ministry, the majority of them (178) including 157, which were handed to the Prime Minister Narendra Modi in New York, have come from the United States. The 18th-century statuette of Goddess Annapurna, stolen 100 years ago from Varanasi was brought back from Ottawa, Canada in October. It was installed at Kashi Vishwanath Temple in Varanasi a month later. Homecoming of the Yogini idol is another major repatriation.

Foodgrains worth ₹300 cr lost annually in transit

EXPRESS NEWSERVICE @ New Delhi

LOSS of foodgrains belonging to Food Corporation of India (FCI) during transportation or transit annually cost nearly Rs 300 crore.

Government data said that FCI suffered a loss of nearly Rs 431 crore in the year 2021-22 as higher quantity was moved to various places during the Covid period.

A parliamentary committee in its report noted that the losses on account of transit are 0.28% and in terms of money, FCI is losing annually about Rs. 300 crores due to this.

The reasons for transit losses are stated to be on account of multiple handling, poor texture of gunnies, accentuated use of iron hooks, poor quality wagons, en-route pilferages, inadequate security at rail points, etc, the report said.

The Committee while taking note of the various measures taken to prevent the losses on account of damages, storage and transit, express their opinion that the annual financial loss of Rs. 300 crores on account of transit alone is really worrisome. "The Committee therefore recommends that concrete steps need to taken to strengthen the storage and transport management system in such a way as to minimize losses on these accounts," said the report.

Meanwhile, the government in its reply to the committee claimed that the higher value of transit losses during 2020-21 is because of higher quantity moved to meet the requirement of enhanced special allocations in the wake of Covid-19 pandemic. Also, the total movement during 2020-21 was 538.55 Lakh MT as against total movement of 409.58 Lakh MT during 2019-20. Moreover, MSP of foodgrains is increased every year resulting in a higher value for the same quantum of loss.

The position of storage and transit losses is reviewed in every monthly performance review meeting (MPRM) at HQ level. At Zone level EDs,(Zone) monitor it in meetings and at Regional levels GM(R) reviews it in meetings. Accordingly, all concerned have been instructed to intensify inspections of depots showing higher storage.

THEY said investigation is also needed to find out why the NSE dispose off her laptop hurriedly without examining it and who took the decision not to preserve even her desktop for a future inquiry.

Sources said the role of NSE would also be investigated to find out why Ramkrishna was allowed to resign and leave honourably and why no action was taken against her by the NSE when its board was fully aware of the emails exchanged between her and the unknown person.

The Sebi probe conducted by its whole-time member Ananta Barua, who submitted his final report on February 11, 2022, said on page 123, "I note from the E&Y Report that only the desktops assigned to Noticee No. 1 (Chitra Ramkrishna) and 6 were imaged/checked and the laptops assigned to Noticees No. 2 (NSE, whose laptop Ms Ramkrishna was using) and 6 were not available for forensic imaging as they were disposed as E-waste. The report further said, "I also note from the E&Y Report that only the official emails id's of Noticees No. 2 and 6 could be checked and emails sent/received to/from their private emails to the unknown person could not be accessed."

On Ramkrishna's claim about the mystery person with whom she was communicating on email id rigyajursama@outlook.com not having a physical form, the report said: "From a perusal of the emails… it is evident that the unknown person is a physical being and has gone on vacations with the Noticee No. 1 (Ramkrishna) to 'chill'. It is apparent that Noticee No. 1 has refused to reveal the identity of the unknown person."

Imambada Sibtainabad gate ready for makeover

The City of Nawabs is known for its monumental prosperity and rich cultural heritage. Imambada Sibtainabad is one such architectural marvel which adds to the glory of Lucknow. Recently, the gate of the Imambada has been restored to its former glory, and now, the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) is all set to launch a mega greening drive for the gate to the 173-year-old Imambada Sibtainabad, in plush Hazratganj. It will be illuminated on the lines of the Rumi Darwaza. The plan is afoot to install more than a dozen LED lights to highlight the fine Nawabi era architecture. The gate had collapsed in 2020 during the lockdown.

Innovative skull implant surgery done on two-year-old

In a rare medical feat, doctors of a private hospital successfully replaced a damaged skull bone of a two-year-old child with an implant that will expand as the skull grows with the child in Lucknow. The surgery was performed roughly three months ago and the child is normal now. The child had met with an accident a year before at home, in Rae Bareli, and the damage to one side of the skull was severe. As per the doctors concerned the skull bone was preserved but the body rejected it initially. Thereafter, the doctors then decided to use a porous polyethylene implant and applied 3D printing. "This implant can expand with the skull," said Dr Prarthna Saxena. Doctors said that the bone will gradually grow and cover the implant in the next one or one-and-half years time and it would be a normal skull.

Decommissioned rifles reserved for use in polls

The decommissioned British-era .303 rifles have been in reserve to be used by UP cops, if need arises, for the last time during the ongoing UP Assembly elections. These rifles have been kept in reserve for police personnel as the number of weapons may not be adequate during a massive deployment of forces for polling days. After being displayed during the Republic Day parade in 2020, these rifles were decommissioned from the UP Police. New-era weapons have also been allotted to the force. In January, 2020, 86,000 British era rifles were replaced by 86,000 semi-automatic rifles, including 63,000 INSAS rifles and 23,000 self-loading rifles (SLRs).

Military jet crashes after 'technical failure'

Yangon: A Myanmar military jet crashed in country's north on Wednesday morning, killing its pilot after a "technical failure", the junta's information team said. The jet, flying from Tada-U air force base near Mandalay, "lost contact about 10.43am this morning," and later crashed into Yay Myet Gyi lake in Sagaing. The pilot had been flying a non-combat training mission and had been confirmed dead, an update read. Local media said firefighters reached the scene and published photos of rescuers wading near wreckage. Plane crashes are common in Myanmar, which has an incipient aviation sector with monsoon causing problems. AFP

Court hears last-ditch bid to block duo's hanging

Kuala Lumpur: A court in Singapore on Wednesday heard a last-ditch appeal from the family of two death row inmates believed to be mentally disabled, hours before they were scheduled to be executed. The two men, who were arrested for smuggling drugs into the country, would be the first executions carried out by the island-state since November of 2019, if their sentence is upheld. A day ago, the Court of Appeal had rejected an application to review and halt the execution set for Wednesday. AP

International tourists welcome after 2 years

Hanoi: Vietnam will re-open to international tourists on March 15 after a two-year border closure due to pandemic, the government said on Wednesday. The nation of 97 million largely closed itself in March 2020 — a move that clobbered its burgeoning tourism sector which was worth $32 billion a year before Covid. Authorities said on Wednesday they would begin issuing visas and accepting foreign arrivals from the middle of next month. The announcement comes a day after the communist country lifted all curbs on international flights. Tourists must be fully vaccinated and produce a negative test before departure and upon arrival. Risk of a Ukraine war spreading in Europe rests on unknown factors

Putin's ambitions, West's response or plain bad luck can lead to devastating consequences

WASHINGTON

A RUSSIAN invasion of Ukraine would be devastating, and a wider European war even worse. Whether a larger war happens would depend partly on President Vladimir Putin's ambitions, partly on the West's military response, and partly on plain luck.

War by its nature is unpredictable, and the stakes are enormous, not just for an overmatched Ukraine but for Europe and the US.

At risk, arguably, is the European security order established after World War II and then altered peacefully with the reunification of Germany, the demise of communism in Eastern Europe, the collapse of the Soviet Union and the expansion of NATO.

US President Joe Biden has said he will not fight Russia in Ukraine, nor would America's NATO allies. So a Russian invasion would not automatically trigger a wider war. But if Putin took his offensive beyond Ukraine's borders onto NATO territory, the US could get drawn into it. That's because Washington is obliged by the North Atlantic Treaty to defend its allies, some of whom fear they are Russian targets. "The US will defend every inch of NATO territory," Biden said on Tuesday. He also said that if any American in Ukraine is targeted by Russia, "we will respond forcefully".

Beyond the seemingly unlikely scenario of Putin deliberately extending an invasion beyond Ukraine, there is a risk that even a limited war could spread as a result of an accident or a miscalculation. Once the fighting started, a bit of bad luck could lead to more conflict.

Even if Putin were to back off in coming days and pursue a negotiated path to his security goals, the enormous tension created by his buildup of forces on Ukraine's borders could have a lasting impact elsewhere in Europe. AP

Kremlin denies role in Ukraine cyberattack

Moscow: The Kremlin on Wednesday denied responsibility for a cyberattack on Ukraine a day earlier that hit websites at the country's defence ministry and armed forces as well as two state banks. Kyiv had suggested the attack came from Russia as fears persist that Moscow is planning to invade its Western-backed neighbour Ukraine. "We do not know anything. As expected, Ukraine continues blaming Russia for everything," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov said, adding Russia had nothing to do with any DDOS attacks. The affected sites included the Oschadbank state savings bank and Privat — two of the country's largest financial institutions. AFP

Russia mocks West over 'invasion date'

Moscow: "Wars in Europe rarely start on a Wednesday." That's how a top Russian diplomat brushed off speculation in the West that Russia could invade neighboring Ukraine as soon as Wednesday (February 16). As the United States and other NATO members warn of the potential for a war, Russia is not countering the claims with bombs or olive branches — but with sarcasm. As worries mushroomed across the West and Ukraine that Wednesday could be the day President Vladimir Putin launches an invasion of Ukraine, Russian officials ridiculed them. In a Facebook post, Foreign Ministry spokesperson Maria Zakharova asked the "mass media of disinformation" in the West "to reveal the schedule of our invasions' for the upcoming year. I'd like to plan my vacations". Russia's ambassador to the European Union, Vladimir Chizhov, accused Westerners of "slander" for alleging an invasion was afoot. He insisted in an interview with German daily newspaper Welt that "there won't be an attack this Wednesday". Then Chizhov added: "Wars in Europe rarely start on a Wednesday." AP

NUCLEAR DEAL

Iran calls for US political statement

TEHRAN

IRAN urged the US Congress on Wednesday to issue a "political statement" that it will stay committed to a possible agreement in Vienna talks to restore the 2015 nuclear deal. The accord offered Tehran sanctions relief in exchange for curbs on its nuclear programme, but then US president Donald Trump unilaterally withdrew from it in 2018 and reimposed sanctions.

Iran's Foreign Minister Hossein Amir-Abdollahian urged the US guarantee on the so-called Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action in an interview with the Financial Times published on his ministry's website. "As a matter of principle, public opinion in Iran cannot accept as a guarantee the words of a head of state, let alone the US, due to the withdrawal of Americans from the JCPOA."

Meanwhile, France warned that Iran only had days left to accept a deal on its nuclear programme, and that a major crisis would be unleashed if there is no agreement. AFP

Sri Lankan rights panel calls for repeal of anti-terror law

COLOMBO

SRI LANKA'S Human Rights Commission has called for the repeal of a controversial anti-terror law that gives police sweeping powers to arrest suspects without trial, amid mounting pressure from the Tamil and Muslim political parties and the European Union over concerns that the law violates human rights.

Enacted in 1979, the Prevention of Terrorism Act (PTA) allows authorities warrantless arrests and searches if a person is suspected of involvement in a "terrorist activity".

"Notwithstanding the amendments already suggested by the government, the HRCSL advocates the complete abolition of the PTA," the Human Rights Commission of Sri Lanka (HRCSL) said in a statement on Tuesday. The Commission believes that the offence of terrorism should be included in the Penal Code with a new definition for terrorism, it said.

"It is explicitly for those who threaten or use violence unlawfully to target the civilian population by spreading fear thereof to further a political-ideological or religious cause," Justice (retd) Rohini Marasinghe, Chairperson of the HRCSL said. The Commission advocates that terrorism should be investigated under the General Law of the country.

The HRCSL statement comes a day after political parties representing the minority Tamil and Muslim communities started a campaign to collect signatures in support of repealing the controversial law. The signatories included religious leaders, leaders of the political parties, civil society, trade union members, activists and the general public, organisers of the campaign said.

The HRC statement assumes significance as the government issued a gazette notification last month saying the PTA will be amended. PTI

Macron hosts African leaders ahead of French withdrawal from Mali

PARIS

FRENCH President Emmanuel Macron hosts African leaders on Wednesday ahead of an expected announcement that France is withdrawing its troops from Mali after an almost decade-long deployment to battle a jihadist insurgency.

Multiple sources said that Macron will announce that French forces will leave Mali and redeploy elsewhere in the Sahel region, following a breakdown in relations with the ruling junta.

It remains unclear when, and how, Macron will make the announcement.

The deployment in Mali of a European force known as Takuba — a project driven by Macron to spread the security burden in the troubled region — will also come to an end, the sources said. The Mali deployment has been fraught with problems for France, with 48 of the 53 soldiers killed during its Barkhane mission in West Africa. France initially deployed troops against jihadists in Mali in 2013 but the insurgency was never fully quelled, and new fears have now emerged of a jihadist push to the Gulf of Guinea.

The announcement of the withdrawal comes at a critical time for Macron, just days ahead of a long-awaited declaration from the president that he will stand for a new term in April elections. It also coincides with Macron seeking to take a lead role in international diplomacy as he presses Russia to de-escalate in the standoff over Ukraine. The working dinner hosted by Macron on Wednesday starting at 1930 GMT will bring together the leaders of France's key allies in the Sahel region — Chad, Mauritania and Niger. AFP

With 5% hike, jet fuel price hits 14-year high

Surpasses Aug 2008 level of ₹71,028.26 per kl when crude price was $147 a barrel; Brent trades at $94.87 a barrel

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

AVIATION turbine fuel (ATF) prices soared to 14-year-high in the country on Wednesday as oil companies hiked jet fuel prices by about 5%. This is the fourth hike in jet fuel prices in less than two months following a spike in global oil prices.

As per the price notification of fuel retailers, ATF price increased by ₹4,481.63 per kilolitre to ₹90,519.79 per kl in Delhi. This rate is higher than ₹71,028.26 per kl reached in August 2008 when international crude oil price was around $147 per barrel.

However, Brent crude oil on Wednesday was trading at $94.87 per barrel, after crossing $95 per barrel just a few days back. The reason for drop in the international oil prices is the de-escalation of tension between Russia and Ukraine.

Jet fuel price changes on the 1st and 16th of every month based on the average price of the international benchmark in the preceding fortnight.

The rate was hiked by ₹2,039.63 per kl or 2.75% to ₹76,062.04 per kl on January 1, ₹3,232.87 per kl (4.25%) to ₹79,294.91 per kl on January 16. Then again, it went up by ₹6,743.25 per kl or 8.5% to ₹86,038.16 on February 1.

Oil companies have not revised petrol and diesel prices since Nov 4. Petrol costs ₹95.41 a litre in Delhi and diesel is priced at ₹86.67, as per price notification from fuel retailers.

4TH HIKE IN LAST TWO MONTHS

Date	Price (per kilo liter)	Percentage change
Januar 1	₹76,062.04 per kilo liter	2.75%
January 16	₹79,294.91	4.25%
February 1	₹86,038.16	8.5%
February 16	₹90,519.79	5.2%

MONTHLY ECONOMIC REVIEW

Inflation expected to moderate in FY23: Govt report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

EVEN as experts question the government's budget assumption of 3-3.5% inflation in 2022-23 amid rising crude prices and overall global inflation, the finance ministry believes the inflation would come down from the current levels in the next financial year.

In its monthly economic review, the department of economic affairs, ministry of finance, note: "Global inflation and energy prices are likely to be influential in determining India's rate of inflation and government expects it to decline to eventually obtain a GDP deflator of 3.0-3.5% assumed in the Budget 2022-23."

A finance ministry official told TNIE that the GDP deflator is 2/3rd of the Wholesale Price Index (WPI), and since the WPI has remained in double-digit in the current financial year, the government expects it to come down in the next financial year. The official says that high base effect would come into picture in 2022-23.

GDP deflator, which indicates inflation in the economy, is a mix of both wholesale and retail inflation.

The WPI has remained in double-digit in the last 10 months of 2021-22. In January the WPI grew at 12.96%. CPI Inflation, however, is expected to be 5.3% in 2021-22. The RBI has also predicted 4.5% retail inflation in 2022-23.

The budget has estimated 11.1% nominal GDP growth rate while Economic Survey Report has estimated 8-8.5% real GDP growth in 2022-23, therefore, indicating that the GDP deflator would be around 2.5-3%. Many analysts had questioned the government's low inflation estimate.

Meanwhile, the monthly economic review says that the fixed investment rate in India's economy is poised to rise further from its 2021-22 ratio of 29.6% of GDP thanks to higher capital expenditure planned in 2022-23.

The ministry says that the capex component in the budget 2022-23 will be financed by both domestic and foreign savings within the fiscal deficit of 6.4% of GDP budgeted for central government and an additional 4% capped for the state governments.

WPI in double-digit

A finance ministry official told TNIE that the GDP deflator is 2/3rd of the Wholesale Price Index (WPI), and since the WPI has remained in double-digit in the current financial year, the government expects it to come down in the next financial year. The high base effect would come into picture in 2022-23.

Manyavar owner Vedant Fashions lists at 8% premium

DESPITE an unimpressive subscription of its initial public offering (IPO), Vedant Fashions, which owns the Manyavar brand, made a decent debut on the bourses on Wednesday.

The stock got listed at ₹936, an 8% premium to its issue price, and ended its first session at ₹935 with a gain of 7.9% over its issue price. During intraday it touched a high of ₹993 on the BSE. The positive performance of the stock came even as its ₹3,150-crore IPO saw subdued response, getting subscribed by 2.57 times with retail portion getting subscribed by only 0.39%. Many analysts were expecting a discounted listing for Vedant Fashions due to concerns over its high valuation, the IPO being a complete offer for sale and on-going geopolitical tensions that has increased volatility in the market.

Likhita Chepa, Senior Research Analyst at CapitalVia, said analysts were expecting the stock to list at a discount of 8-10%. However, owing to improving sentiments in the markets and the global peers, especially after Russia announced partial withdrawal of its troops from the Ukrainian border, a recovery was seen across sectors in the past two sessions.

Santosh Meena, Head of Research, Swastika Investmart, said the company has strong brand value with good fundamentals. Post-listing, the company commands a market capitalisation of ₹22,688 crore.

"Investors should approach it from the long-term perspective where any dip of 15-20% from current levels will be a good buying opportunity. Those who applied for listing gain should maintain a stop loss of ₹890," said Meena. ENS

Will get $25 m funding & resume ops soon: Trujet

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

REGIONAL airline Trujet said it is in talks with an investor to raise $25 million and will soon restart operations. "Trujet is in final stage of discussion with a potential investor who is funding $25 million within next few days," V Umesh, managing director of Trujet, said in a statement.

This announcement came after Trujet temporarily suspended its aircrafts due to financial issues. It was operating with a single ATR-72 aircraft before grounding operations.

With this, it became the only known carrier to have grounded its fleet and suspend operations during the on-going Covid-19 pandemic. It also became the second carrier after Jet Airways to suspend operations.

The Hyderabad-based airline said that its management is doing their best to regain its previous glory and soon will touch the skies with more machines.

Amidst rumors that all is not well with the company given its CFO, COO and CEO have left the airline in the recent past, Trujet said its former CFO- KG Vishwanath and COO- Sudheer Raghvan have left the organisation almost one year back.

The investor would like to bring his own panel of management, and in that process, Yoga has been appointed as CFO. "The investor is also in the process of finalising a new CEO who is well-versed and experienced in aviation and will be totally taking charge as CEO on 1st March 2022," it said.

Till such time, V Umesh, the managing director, will be the acting CEO for the company.

I-T dept conducts raids at premises of Huawei

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@New Delhi

THE income tax department has conducted searches at the premises of the Chinese techgiant Huawei as a part of a tax evasion investigation. This is the second raid on the Chinese mobile makers in the past two months.

As per the sources, during the raid the official looked at financial documents, account books and company records as part of a tax evasion investigation against the company. Some records have been seized too. The raids were conducted at Delhi, Gurugram (Haryana) and Bengaluru in the Karnataka office of Huawei.

However, Huawei in its part said it fully cooperates as per the rules and regulations and follows the right procedure.

"We have been informed of the visit of income tax team to our office and also of their meeting with some personnel. Huawei is confident our operations in India are firmly compliant to all laws and regulations. We will approach related government departments for more information and fully cooperate as per the rules and regulations and follow the right procedure," the company said in a statement.

The government has been cracking down on Chinese firms in one or other pretext ever since the relationship between the two soured after the Galwan military stand-off in Ladakh region in 2020. In December last year, the government raided the offices of Chinese mobile manufacturer — Xiaomi and Oppo — and claimed to have detected alleged unaccounted income worth over ₹6,500 crore. Earlier this week, the Information and Technology ministry blocked 54 apps citing a threat to the country's security.

India Inc to give 9.9% salary hike, highest in 5 yrs

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA Inc is likely to give out a 9.9% salary hike in 2022 as compared to 9.3% in 2021, according to Aon Survey released on Wednesday. The survey adds this is the highest hike in the last five years.

The study that analysed data across 1,500 companies from more than 40 industries, noted that survey participants reported the highest attrition figure at 21% in over a decade in 2021. It added that highest attrition in over two decades signifies the impact of 'great resignation' on India.

The industries with the highest projected salary increases are e-commerce and venture capital, hitech/IT and IT enabled services (ITeS) and life sciences, the survey said.

The report goes on to add that despite a tough few months with the second and third waves of infections during the Covid-19 pandemic, India continues to project the highest salary increases among the BRIC (Brazil, Russia, India and China) nations in 2022. In Brazil, salary increments will be 5.0%, Russia at 6.1% and China at 6.0%.

"Salary increases should come as a welcome break for employees amidst a volatile period. For employers, it could emerge as a double-edged sword when you combine the rising cost of talent with record-high attrition numbers," Nitin Sethi, partner and CEO of Aon's Human Capital Solutions in India said. "This trend is fuelled by economic recovery and the need for organisations to invest in new age capabilities to build a resilient workforce," Sethi said.

Small investors likely to earn 13-18% returns from TCS' ₹18k-cr buyback

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

SMALL shareholders who take part in the TCS' ₹18000-crore buyback could earn potential returns of 6% to as much as 13.5-18%, depending on how many of the tendered shares are accepted by the company.

Those holding up to ₹2 lakh worth of shares are categorised small, as per capital market regulator Sebi. These investors can take part in the buyback, if they hold the shares as on the record date of Wednesday, February 23.

Investors not having the share can purchase it before or latest by Monday February 21 to be eligible for the buyback.

The company is offering to buy back 4 crore shares, or 1.08% of its paid up equity share capital, at ₹4,500 per share, aggregating to ₹18000 crore.

Since 15% of the total buyback is reserved for those holding up to ₹2 lakh shares, around 60 lakh shares will be set aside for this category of shareholder.

As ₹2 lakh is the upper limit for this category, a small investor can buy a maximum of 44 shares (200,000/4500).

"Past TCS buybacks have seen acceptance ratios of 70 -100%," said Jitendra Upadhyay, senior research analyst , Bonanza Wealth Management Research. This is TCS' fourth and largest buyback in five years.

If an investor buys 44 shares at February 16 closing rate of ₹3,813 apiece, total investment is ₹1.67 lakh.

If TCS accepts 75% of the tendered quantity of 44 shares, it translates into 33 shares being bought at ₹4,500 apiece or a total of almost 1.49 lakh. Add that to 11 shares purchased at ₹3,813 or ₹41,943, the total return is ₹1,90,443. Deduct the original investment amount of ₹1,67,772 from that and the gross return is ₹22,671, translating into a 13.5% return.

Since there are 2.23 crore small shareholders, and 60 lakh have been reserved for small investors in the buyback, it implies around 27% of the shares tendered will be accepted. However, past buybacks have a much higher acceptance ratio.

Rana Kapoor, Gautam Thapar get bail in ₹300-cr loan fraud case

ENS/PTI

A special PMLA court granted bail to former Yes Bank cofounder Rana Kapoor and Gautam Thapar of the Avantha group in an over ₹300 crore case of alleged fraud involving the two. However, both will continue to remain in jail as other cases registered by CBI and ED are concurrently on.

The case relates to a subsidiary of Avantha Realty taking a loan from Yes Bank which was allegedly misappropriated between 2017 and 2019.

The bail application for Kapoor says he will have to execute a PR bond of ₹5 lakh along with a surety bond of like amount for himself and his companies, among other things. The ED case was based on the predicate offence registered by CBI against Kapoor , his wife and Thapar for allegedly receiving "illegal gratification in lieu of favours extended in connection with official work."

The bail filed through advocates Vijay Agarwal and Rahul Agarwal said that Kapoor was never arrested in the present case and has fully co-operated with the probe. The ED has examined him, recorded his statement and he is ready to abide by any condition imposed by the court, the plea said.

Thereafter, the judge granted bail to Rana Kapoor, Bindu Kapoor, Gautam Thapar and seven other accused in the case.

The ED is probing the alleged transaction between Thapar's Avantha Realty, Rana Kapoor and the latter's wife, and has filed a money laundering case after taking cognisance of the CBI's FIR.

'MTR working on new distribution models to tackle supply problems'

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

FMCG major MTR Foods, which waded into the wet batter category almost two months ago, is working on establishing new distribution models that would help with better coverage, which, according to its CEO Sanjay Sharma, the company has been struggling with.

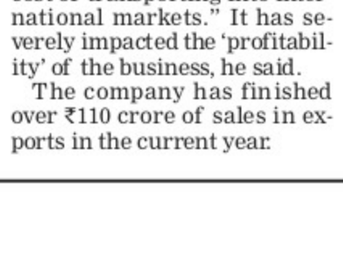
Talking about the business so far in the new category, Sharma tells TNIE that the company is facing challenges in every element of the supply chain.

"There were challenges in terms of manufacturing, streamlining manufacturing. Largely, the challenge we are seeing is with the ability to supply to the market. We thought we would be able to scale fairly fast, but it took us 4-6 weeks to hit over 5,000 outlets," he said.

So far with the new range, the company has hit in excess of 6,000 outlets in Bengaluru.

The company is looking at building it to be a ₹100 crore business in 3-4 years. In the first year, Sharma says, "We are looking at about ₹30 crore."

We are still facing challenges with sales and distribution, he said, adding, "I am not very satisfied the level of availability that we have been able to establish. More needs to be done in improving the delivery models and ability to service the consumer demand."



Digital would be a focus for the company, according to Sharma. "When we started off, 2% of our sales were coming from online. During the pandemic, we saw it go up to 5% and then there was a period in second wave, when it went almost to 9%. In the third wave, it's come and settled at 4.5-5%," he said, pegging that in the next 18-24 months, it will go up to 8-10%.

Despite container shortage, exports business, which is about 10-12% of our revenues, has risen during the pandemic, as it was 9% pre-Covid.

Sharma, however, says, "Over the last 12-15 months, we have faced significant issues due to container availability and the cost of transporting into international markets." It has severely impacted the 'profitability' of the business, he said.

The company has finished over ₹110 crore of sales in exports in the current year.

Ban on Chinese apps boosts domestic companies

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

WHEN TikTok was banned in 2020 along with many other Chinese apps in India, it paved the way for home-grown startups to explore short video platforms. On Tuesday, India again banned 54 Chinese apps including CamCard for Salesforce Ent, which allows one to batch scan and digitise multiple business cards.

Technology company Zoho wants to capitalise on this and it says the company's free app CardScanner offers users to scan business cards and capture the information on their devices or upload them to apps such as Salesforce CRM, Zoho CRM and Bigin, among others.

"The Card Scanner app uses auto edge detection technology to detect a business card when it is placed under the mobile camera. It then uses Optical Character Recognition (OCR) technology to extract the text from the captured image," explains Praval Singh, VP Marketing & Customer Experience, Zoho Corp. The app, used by 1,10,000 users, supports 17 global languages, and Zoho plans to support Indian languages soon.

In 2020, when several Chinese apps were banned for the first time, Zoho saw a surge in homegrown applications. At that time, the company had upgraded its Doc Scanner application and made it free for a year to fill the void left by CamScanner—one of the apps that was banned. "That led to about 50X downloads the following week and 100X users migrated to Zoho Doc Scanner in that month," says Singh.

According to MarketWatch, the Business Card Scanning Software market size is estimated to be worth $1.6 billion in 2021 and is forecasted to be worth $5.5 billion by 2028. There are global players such as Sansan, Knowee, Abbyy, SamCard and ScanBizCards, among others.

United beats Brighton, enters top 4 in EPL

Cristiano Ronaldo ended his six-game goal drought by lashing in a 51st-minute goal to set United on its way to a 2-0 win over Brighton that moved the team into fourth place in the Premier League. Bruno Fernandes added a second goal in the seventh minute of stoppage time, with virtually the last kick of the game, following a rapid break as Brighton committed men forward.

Kylian Mbappe (L) helped PSG beat Real Madrid 1-0 on Wednesday | AP

Mbappe's late strike puts PSG ahead

Kylian Mbappe struck deep in injury time to give PSG a big advantage in the first leg of their Champions League clash against Real Madrid on Tuesday. A look at the two matches...

Mbappe, the new dog

The Parisians dominated the game but had to wait for an impish piece of skill by Mbappe who weaved his way past traffic before slotting the ball home. It was another moment to showcase why he is genuinely regarded as the best player in the world right now.

Toothless Real have it all to do

Madrid may be the most decorated European club but they struggled to get going as a clearly unfit Karim Benzema started, showing their desperation. Their xG (Expected Goals) across 90 minutes was just 0.14, reflecting how poor they were. Without drastic improvement, they may well bow out in this stage.

Manchester City fire warning shot

Woof. This was perhaps the dream start for Pep Guardiola, who seeks to win European football's holy grail for the first time since leaving Barcelona more than a decade ago. Forget the result (5-0) for a moment. The performance was symbolic of a side at the peak of their powers with every player contributing.

Windies blown away

Debutant Bishnoi stars with the ball as India win by six wickets

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

THERE is huge competition for slots in the Indian team, be it any department of the game. So when players get their opportunities to showcase their mettle, it becomes imperative for them to create an impression. With World Cup in the horizon, every opportunity counts.

Likewise, leg-spinner Ravi Bishnoi, who was handed his maiden cap against West Indies in the first T20I at Eden Gardens in Kolkata on Wednesday, must have been desperate to prove himself at the top level after the success in the Indian Premier League for a couple of seasons. The 21-year-old did no harm to his growing reputation with figures of 2/17. His spell helped India restrict West Indies to 157/7 which the hosts overcame successfully in the 19th over. Middle-order batter Suryakumar Yadav applied the finishing touches when they were in a spot of bother after losing quick wickets during the middle overs. India have thus taken a 1-0 lead in the three-match series. Even big hitters including Nicholas Pooran and Kieron Pollard were not able to score freely against Bishnoi, who bowled the wrong one more often than not. Bowling around the speed of 96-97 km/h, he was not allowing the batsmen to have a free swing on the leg side and tried to bowl in the off-stump channel. Sometimes it did not work, as his six wides suggest. But, it showed that the bowler had a plan in place. If one looks at the figures of Chahal (1/34), the senior pro in the squad, Bishnoi's bowling effort looks even more wonderful. The latter bowled the most number of dot balls (17),as batters struggled to pick his deliveries.

Ravi Bishnoi | SPORTZPICS

When India's turn came to bat, Rohit continued his love affair with Eden Gardens, smashing the West Indies bowlers all around the park with his big hits. The skipper scored 19-ball 40 to lay the platform for the rest of the batsmen to follow. On the other hand, Ishan Kishan was not able to score freely as he scored 42-ball 35. India were also in a spot of bother when they lost Kishan, Virat Kohli and Rishabh Pant in quick succession. However, Suryakumar (34) and Venkatesh Iyer (24) ensured India remained in control.

Brief scores: West Indies 157/7 in 20 ovs (Pooran 61, Mayers 31, Bishnoi 2/17, Harshal 2/37) lost to India 162/4 in 18.5 ovs (Rohit 40, Suryakumar 34 n.o, Chase 2/14).

Ramkumar-Saketh enter quarterfinals

ENS @ Bengaluru

TOP seed Aleksandar Vukic and sixth seed Max Purcell have secured their quarterfinals berth in the Bengaluru Open 2 ATP Challenger at the KSLTA Courts here on Wednesday.

The former eased past Great Britain's Jay Clarke in straight sets 6-1, 6-3 while Purcell was involved in a tough match against his fellow Australian Marc Polmans and registered a 7-6 (7), 4-6, 6-2 win.

In the doubles competition, Saketh Myneni and Ramkumar Ramanathan, who had won the doubles title last week, delivered their A-game to beat Yuki Bhambri and Divij Sharan 6-1, 7-5 to advance into the quarterfinals.

Indian wild card entrants SD Prajwal Dev and Niki Kaliyanda Poonacha also overcame the better-ranked Canadian-Japanese combination of Steven Diez and Rio Noguchi to post a 6-2, 6-4 enroute to the last eight of the doubles event.

Arjun Khade combined with Austrian Alexander Erler to breeze past the duo of Bogdan Bobrov (Russia) and Dominik Palan (Czech Republic) with a 6-0, 6-3 victory as well.

Focus on Karnataka bowlers against Railways

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

SINCE winning back-to-back Ranji Trophy titles in 2013-14 and 2014-15, Karnataka have not even reached the finals of the top domestic competition. They will be eager to change that narrative this season, as the Ranji Trophy campaign starts from Thursday across nine venues. Manish Pandey and his men, who will face Railways in their opening match in Chennai, are placed in Elite Group C with Jammu and Kashmir and Puducherry being the other two teams in the pool.

If Karnataka are to shine this season, they will need all their big guns to fire, but their team lacks balance. Their strength lies in batting, which includes Pandey, Mayank Agarwal, Ravikumar Samarth among others while their spin attack looks good with Krishnappa Gowtham and Shreyas Gopal in their ranks. However, their pace unit lacks experience with key man Prasidh Krishna not available for the first game. They will have to depend on Ronit More, who is coming off an injury. The other pacers are Vidhyadhar Patil, Vyshak V and Venkatesh M and the trio have not played a single first-class game. Assistant coach Sreenath Aravind believes that they are prepared.

"This is transition time for Karnataka pacers. It happens every 4-5 years. We do have a new set of bowlers who are going through a learning process. We have certain targets for them when it comes to red-ball cricket and they have been achieving those targets (in training and practice matches). Those who are coming in are prepared for the challenges ahead," said Aravind recently during a training camp in Bengaluru. Hence, the batting unit will be under immense pressure to shine against Railways.

It is going to be a unique season with teams playing just three matches in the group stages and the winner from these will reach the knockout stage. And, it is important to note that the lowest-ranked team among the group winners will meet the Plate topper in the pre-quarterfinal. The knockout stages will be held after the IPL gets over. Teams have not had much time to train due to the strict quarantine measures inside their respective bio bubbles. After five days of quarantine, they have just had a couple of days for training. Besides, it is going to be tough for all teams considering there was no red ball cricket (Ranji Trophy) last season.

'It took me half-second to agree'

...says cricket commentator Charu Sharma, who speaks to CE about how he had to suddenly substitute for Hugh Edmeades in the IPL auctions 2022, his first Asian Games assignment and his love for trekking despite a painful shoulder tear

I am a person of multiple interests. I feel guilty if I am not ambitious. I am now taking up age-appropriate sports like golf and tennis. I am always a sportsman first and then a commentator

Charu Sharma, TV presenter and commentator

SANATH PRASAD

IT was past afternoon and Charu Sharma was having lunch with his family on February 12, when the Mega IPL Auction 2022 was taking place in Bengaluru. Just as he was savouring dessert, Sharma got a call from the chairman of IPL, Brijesh Patel. Sharma thought the reason for the call was to discuss cricket administration, but it turned out to be something else. Patel requested him to fill in for the role of auctioneer Hugh Edmeades who encountered a health emergency during the proceedings.

All it took Sharma was 'half a second' to agree, 15 minutes to drive down to ITC Gardenia and another 15 minutes to be briefed about his responsibilities for the remainder of the auction day.

Although Sharma is no stranger to the role of an auctioneer, it was, however, his first IPL Mega Auction. "I knew the auctions were taking place here, but I hadn't tuned in to follow up what was going on. It was a call from Brijesh and I had to respond to an emergency. I was physically available, and auctioneering is a significant part of who I am...So I immediately rushed," says Sharma, who works as a professional auctioneer for Bid and Hammer, a Bengaluru-based auction house, and has conducted auctions for the Karnataka Premier League and other sporting events.

frankly speaking

For someone, who was not part of IPL commentary and the auction proceedings, to be able to steer the mega event smoothly, was no easy task even though Sharma has decades of experience in the cricketing business. "Auctioneering is not complicated, but you need your adrenaline flowing and understand what's going on," says the 62-year-old, who is the director of the Pro Kabaddi League. As curtains came down on the auction, netizens were all praises for Sharma for taking charge at the last minute. "It has been heartwarming to receive such messages. The assignment itself was unexpected and so were the reactions," says Sharma.

DIFFERENT STROKES

Sharma quit his corporate job in the mid-'80s to take up a commentator's role for Doordarshan in Kolkata for the 1982 Asian Games. "I had a regular corporate job going, until some of my friends nudged me to audition for the commentary on DD. Back then I had felt being a TV commentator was not something I wanted to do for a living. But anyway, I got pushed into it. And my salary as a commentator was ₹200 for a day's work," says Sharma, who was a professional diver and has also dabbled in many sports, including athletics, swimming, water polo, gymnastics, tennis, golf and also cricket.

Talking about his 'breakup' with big-time cricket commentary, Sharma chuckles and says, "I never wanted to move away from that. Only channels can answer as to why I have not done some top-level cricket work in the past few years. I can only say my phone number has not changed."

If he's not behind the mic, Sharma is mountaineering and trekking. Despite a shoulder tear during his previous trek at Kathmandu, during the Nepal Premier League, he is still planning to trek in Uttarakhand in May.

"I am a person of multiple interests. In fact, I have been reeling under a terrible shoulder tear during my trek in Kathmandu and undergoing physiotherapy for many months. I feel guilty if I am not ambitious. I am now taking up age-appropriate sports like golf and tennis. I am first a sportsman and then a commentator," says Sharma, adding, "By some miracle, if I am called to do some IPL commentary, I might have to readjust my plans."

Having been associated with several Kannada movies, Gangvaa, Africadalli Sheela, Love in Mandya, 'disco legend' Bappi Lahiri had a strong connect with Sandalwood

End of a musical era

A SHARADHAA

ON Wednesday, when famed singer Bappi Lahiri breathed his last at the age of 69 owing to obstructive sleep apnea, the music fraternity across the country mourned the loss. The mood was glum in Sandalwood with which Lahiri, popular for his disco-style music, had a strong connect.

A popular name in the Hindi industry, Lahiri made his entry into the Kannada industry in the year 1984 with Dwarakish's directorial, Gangvaa followed by Africadalli Sheela. The story and screenplay was written by Dwarakish, while dialogues were written by Udayashakar – who had written the lyrics with R N Jayagopal. Lahiri was also associated with another of Dwarakish's directorial, Gangvaa starring Rajinikanth and Shabana Azmi. "Bappi first scored music for my film, Gangvaa in 1984, made under my production house, Dwarakish Pictures. It also included Rajinikanth, Shabana Azmi, Kader Khan, Ambarish Puri. Later he did the music for Africadalli Sheela," says Dwarakish.

He goes onto add, "Bappi was my inspiration to shoot the song Sheela Oh My Sheela (Africadalli Sheela) in London. He used to compose music at his home in Mumbai, and I would travel to his house. He took good care of me during my stay there. He was very friendly and wasn't arrogant for his stature. He not only composed good songs for me, he also arranged the song shoot in London. It is a great loss to the industry. The reason I brought Bappi to the Kannada industry for Africadalli Sheela, was because I was also doing that film in three other languages, Hindi, Tamil. He scored music for all the languages. I was thrilled when my film's name and song were mentioned at the London Studio," Dwarakish shares. "I liked all the songs he has recorded for Amitabh Bachchan films," he adds.

Bappi also composed music for Vishnuvardhan's two Kannada films — Krishna Nee Begane Baro, and Police and Dada. He was also associated with the film Guru, starring Ambareesh. Lahiri's last film in Sandalwood was for Love in Mandya starring Sathish Ninasam. He crooned the track Current hodha timealli, along with Sinchana Dixit. The composition was directed by Anoop Seelin.

Born in 1952 to a Bengali Brahmin family, his parents — Apparesh Lahiri and Bansuri Lahiri — were also musicians. Lahiri started singing at the age of three. He is survived by two children – Bappa Lahiri and Reema Lahiri.

Celebrity designer Suneet Varma, who was in the city with Malaika Arora, speaks to CE about his love for Bengaluru all over again

FASHION ON POINT

MONIKA MONALISA

SHE walked in like fine wine and made heads turn. This was Malaika Arora walking the ramp for Suneet Varma's collection in Bengaluru recently. Varma and Arora were in the city for a show, held during the launch of Mansionz Bengaluru, a store that curates a wide collection of spirits and beverages.

For the event, Varma specially curated a collection which was inspired by art. From headgears with patterns from nature, his couture collection had every bit of drama. Arora, the showstopper, wore a champagne green gown adorned with shimmery sequins. The Chaiyya Chaiyya girl teamed it with a standout statement necklace that came bedecked with a shimmering gemstone in a different shade. The necklace complimented the look, without overpowering it, considering the innumerable embellishments on the gown.

Varma's association with Arora goes back to over two decades. From wearing a Swarovski-embroidered blouse and sheer metallic pants to pearl-encrusted crochet blouse designed by the 58-year-old designer, Arora has been his muse on several occasions.

Suneet Varma

Not his first visit to the city, but Varma feels at home here as people 'exude warmth and love'. "Bengaluru is one of my most favourite cities to visit. I adore the crowd which always gives me a very warm welcome," says Varma. City-based fashion guru and Varma's friend Prasad Bidapa, who directed the show, was also an integral part of the luxe event. "I wanted to explore Bengaluru as a market for my soon-to-be-launched luxury pret line — mostly evening separates that are young and sexy. It's very much the ethos of my brand," he says.

Varma's collections have always spoken of style, grace and luxury and the current collection blended well with the theme of the beverage store. "I wanted the launch to make a big splash and figured what better way than to have a fashion show to go with the concept of our store. Of course, it had to be Malaika Arora and Suneet Varma for me. We wanted it to be classy and glamorous and both fit the bill perfectly," says Moksh Sani, managing director, Mansionz by Living Liquidz.

FIT BIT

MAHA BHEDA MUDRA

(THE GREAT PIERCING ATTITUDE)

This asana is mentioned in Hatha Yoga Pradeepika and Gheranda Samhita. Practise it along with Maha Mudra and Moola Bandha. This is a practice to pierce the seven chakras and forms part of Hatha Yoga and Kriya Yoga practices. As the awareness is taken from Mooladhara to Sahasrara Chakra, one pierces through various levels of consciousness. The practitioner maintains the focus on the pure witness state without any distractions. Perform in the presence of an expert.

STEPS
- Sit on the floor with outstretched legs. Fold the left leg and press the perineum with the left heel.
- Your right leg should remain stretched out.
- Exhale, bend forward and hold the big toe of the right leg with your hands.
- Then, perform Maha Bandha. It comprises the three Bandhas or Jalandhara Bandha, Uddhiyana Bandha and Moola Bandha done together.
- Perform nose tip gazing or Nasikagra Dhristi.
- Begin to rotate the consciousness between the Mooladhara, Manipuraka and Vishuddhi Chakras. Keep the consciousness at each chakra for a few seconds. Remember to exhale and hold your breath during the entire round.
- Continue with the rotation of consciousness as long as you are comfortable holding your breath.
- Release Moola Bandha first, followed by Uddhiyana Bandha and then, Jalandhara Bandha.
- To release the mudra, inhale slowly and straighten out the body, placing your hands on the knees, which is one round of the Mudra. This can be repeated a few times.
- Repeat it with the right leg folded.
- One can also do this with both legs stretched out.

BENEFITS
- Gives you physical and spiritual benefits.
- It harnesses the energy of three chakras and induces concentration of the mind.
- According to the Hatha Yoga Pradeepika, it gives siddhis, destroys old age and grey hair, increases appetite and gives steadiness to the body.

LIMITATIONS
- People suffering from cervical spondylosis, colitis, vertigo, hernia, heart complaints, abdominal disorders, ulcers in stomach and intestine, high blood pressure, glaucoma, or menstruating or pregnant women should avoid this.
- Since it produces a lot of body heat, avoid it during summer.
- Practise it in the morning when the stomach is completely empty before meditation.

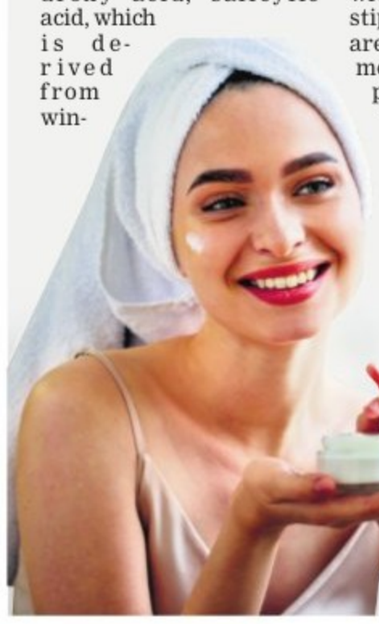
Chemical peels for better skincare

Denizens are opting for alpha hydroxy peels for various skin issues like acne, exfoliation, hyper pigmentation and skin rejuvenation

DR JANET ALEXANDER CASTELINO

ALPHA Hydroxy Acids (AHAs) are fruit acids that are becoming increasingly popular as a primary ingredient in several skincare formulations. When used in high concentrations as short-contact treatments under the skilled hands of dermatologists, these hydroxy acids make chemical peels.

There are several different Alpha Hydroxy Acids derived from a variety of interesting food sources. The mild and gentle lactic acid is derived from milk, glycolic acid known as the 'supreme exfoliator' is obtained from sugarcane, mandelic acid is derived from bitter almonds, and tartaric acid from grapes! It isn't surprising then that ancient Egyptian queens were reported to have bathed in sour milk (lactic acid) as part of their skincare regime. Then, there is also the beta hydroxy acid, salicylic acid, which is derived from wintergreen leaves.



Alpha Hydroxy chemical peels such as lactic and glycolic peels, work by breaking the bonds that hold dead skin cells together, allowing fresh skin cells to regenerate. They aid with treating hyperpigmentation by suppressing excess melanin pigment production in the skin. These peels also stimulate and remodel collagen, which gives the skin its healthy firmness. On the other hand, the salicylic acid peel is more lipid-soluble and is perfect for unclogging oil-filled pores. It also has anti-inflammatory characteristics, making it ideal for treating acne.

Different peels used alone or in combination, target a wide variety of skin conditions ranging from acne, hyperpigmentation, blemishes, freckles, superficial wrinkles to skin rejuvenation. A dermatologist administers them, as medical-grade peels are efficient and safe. After being left in contact with the skin for a short, stipulated time, the peels are neutralised and removed with adequate post-peel care, and sun protection is advised. With all of this in mind, chemical peels are a staple procedure that may be strategically implemented into one's skincare routine for long-term results.

Vaccinated people less likely to develop long Covid

People who are vaccinated are less likely to develop long Covid even if they catch the virus, reveals a rapid review by the UK Health Security Agency (UKHSA). According to the BBC, the research team looked at the available evidence to date from 15 studies around the world and found that while some who are jabbed catch Covid, vaccines reduce infection risk and illness, including symptoms like fatigue. – IANS

Covid vaccination may boost mental health along with immunity

Apart from keeping you safe from the lethal disease, Covid-19 vaccination may also improve the psychological well-being as a new study published in the American Journal of Preventive Medicine has found that those who received at least one vaccine dose were associated with statistically significant declines in multiple psychological distress factors. –IANS

MATTERS OF THE HEART

The current pandemic has had a major impact on one's day-to-day lifestyle and this can be detrimental to the heart

DR GANESH NALLUR SHIVU

A stressful and westernised lifestyle (high fat diet, lack of physical exercise, smoking and alcohol excess) are the main reasons for the alarming increase in the incidence of heart disease in India in the recent years. It has also resulted in development of heart attacks in younger individuals as early as 30 or 40 years old. This problem will continue to worsen unless corrective measures and healthy lifestyles are adopted. Also, better treatment for acute heart attacks, has decreased the mortality but can result in heart failure when there is significant heart muscle damage. Heart failure also occurs secondary to viral infections, diabetes, hypertension, valvular heart disease or excess alcohol.

The current Covid pandemic has had a major impact on day to day lifestyle and this can be detrimental to the heart. Undertaking regular exercise has been a challenge especially in the elderly population because of Covid restrictions and fear. Majority of software professionals are working from home and this has altered both their physical and mental health which in turn has a bearing on the heart. There is a definite increase in incidence of obesity, hypertension, diabetes and metabolic syndrome which can be directly attributed to the current pandemic scenario. The impact of this will only be noticed in the later years with an increase in incidence of heart disease.

The treatment for heart attacks involve medications (blood thinners, anti-cholesterol drugs and anti-anginal drugs), coronary angioplasty and coronary artery bypass grafting. For heart failure, the doctor will prescribe medications to get rid of excess fluid (diuretics or water tablets) and other medications to help the recovery of the heart function (ACE inhibitors, AT2 antagonists and beta blockers). The treatment may also include coronary angioplasty, coronary artery bypass grafting and valve replacement. There are also special kinds of pacemakers (cardiac resynchronisation therapy), which can improve symptoms and prognosis in these patients. In extreme cases, left ventricular assist devices and heart transplantation will be considered. Although highly specialised and advanced treatments are available, the morbidity and mortality for both heart attack and heart failure remain high. Hence, the old adage of prevention is better than cure applies here. We will look at various aspects of the risk factors and how to manage them to prevent heart disease.

DIETARY HABITS

Simple dietary regimens should be followed rather than strict diets. One should be able to inculcate this dietary regime in the long term rather than short term. One simple step is to avoid eating outside food. One can cook different cuisines at home to satisfy their taste buds. Also cooking in itself can be a stress buster. Extra salt intake should be avoided. Eat lots of fruit and vegetables and avoid fried foods and sweets.

Smoking

Smoking has become much more common due to stress and in many cases peer pressure. Significant long lasting benefits are noted following cessation of smoking. Individuals can and should take all expert help, including nicotine patches and psychological counselling, to help them quit.

Stress

This is probably one of the most difficult problems to address. Individuals should aim to achieve a good work-life balance and avoid stretching themselves too much at the cost of their health. We should realise that whilst we are easily and readily replaceable at work, we are irreplaceable at home. We should always try and spend time with family and friends. Discussions about work should be avoided in these gatherings. Taking up a hobby like music or games can be refreshing and stress busting at the same time.

Exercise

Most of us work in sedentary jobs which involve very little physical work. Hence, it is important to have an exercise regime to help us keep fit. Exercise also should not become stressful. We should undertake exercises that can be continued for a long time. One suggestion is to undertake a sport which can be played with friends. Regular exercise 4 to 5 times a week is recommended.

Health checks

We should undertake regular health checks to diagnose and treat risk factors for heart disease like diabetes, high blood pressure and high cholesterol. Regular heart checks are also important to diagnose latent and early heart disease, so that intervention can be started at an early stage.

What are negative calories? What are the foods that have these?
THE mantra for weight loss is calorie management, calorie deficit and nutritionally dense. Some foods help in weight loss since they are grouped under negative calories, meaning that you lose calories by eating them. Consuming these foods requires more calories to eat, digest, process and eliminate due to fibre and high water content. A few examples are tomatoes, cucumbers, carrots, watermelon, celery, broccoli, grapefruit and lettuce. However, they still have calories. So, it is advisable to eat a variety of fruits and vegetables alongside other foods that contain protein, healthy fats and complex carbs for optimal health.

I have a protein shake every day, but my weight seems to stay the same. Is there something that I am doing wrong?
You have got your weight loss facts all wrong. Weight loss is an amalgamation of many things put together. Cardio, total body strength training, balanced diet, calorie deficit, quality sleep and stress management...all of these count. Weight loss is not overnight, it happens over a period of time. Your protein intake should match your workouts. Inadequate consumption of protein impedes your weight-loss process.

Cardio is not my thing. Are there any other exercises that I can do to lose weight?
Well, cardio is an important component of fitness and it cannot be ruled out of your fitness routine. Cardio-respiratory exercise like the names indicate involve your heart and lungs. It improves your lung capacity, strengthens and conditions your heart and reduces the risk of various lifestyle diseases. Cardio-respiratory exercises burn calories during the exercise and give you that endorphin high. Now. I am sure you have no reason to miss out on cardio whether it's your thing or not. Try music-based cardio workouts like structured aerobics as these are more enjoyable and the choreography changes every day.

'HOME IS WHERE THE HEART IS'

A SHARADHAA

THE success of Sankashta Kara Ganapathi has again brought together actor Likith Shetty and director Arjun Kumar for their second outing, Family Pack. The making of this film was a long process, says director Arjun, who tells us that the project that began in 2018 has taken a little more time to reach the audience. "They say, it's better to be late than never. So, we are happy to present the film on February 17 on Prime Video," the director says. He adds, "The feedback for the first film helped me to do better in the second project. I am grateful for the support of Puneeth Rajkumar's PRK Productions."

Likith, who is happy to team up with Arjun for the second time, says that they have a similar working pattern and that is one of the reasons for collaborating again. The film is billed to be a family entertainer about love, marriage, and family. "Love happens. But approval and acceptance become very important to maintain a healthy family. What happens when members of the family are not on the same page is what I have explored in Family Pack. We all like the idea of 'Home Sweet Home'. Since a home is where the heart is, it becomes each one's responsibility to keep it calm and peaceful," he adds.

...says director Arjun Kumar, who along with actor Likith Shetty and Amrutha Iyengar, share thoughts about their upcoming film, Family Pack. The film, backed by PRK Productions, is out on Prime Video from Feb17

Incidentally, Arjun got the idea for the film from a news snippet about a guy attempting to kill himself by jumping off the fourth floor. "An idea about the single guy later turned into a story about a family. When I was scripting this story, I was surrounded by two families, and in a way, their presence gave me better tips to conceive Family Pack," the director says.

Likith plays Abhi, a boy who has lost all hope and the will to live. He starts having encounters with a ghost played by Ranghayana Raghu. "It is a comical journey, and I say it with confidence that no other actor than Rangayana Raghu would have justified the character," says Likith, who has also co-produced Family Pack.

Amrutha Iyengar, who plays the love interest of Likith Shetty's character, says that Family Pack is the most important film in her career. "I couldn't be any happier. I have never done such an interesting role before. The movie is an out-and-out family entertainer," she says. The film also consists of a host of other actors -- Rangayana Raghu, Dattanna, Sihi Kahi Chandru, Achyuth Kumar, Padmaja Rao, Tilak and Nagabhushana in important roles. With dialogues written by Masti, Family Pack has music composed by Gurukiran, and cinematography by Uday Leela.

KRANTI'S ACTION-PACKED FIRST-LOOK TEASER OUT

CE FEATURES

THE first-look teaser of Darshan's Kranti, directed by V Harikrishna, was released on the actor's birthday (Feb 16), which turned out to be a treat to his fans. Darshan in mass avatar is seen holding an ice cream in one hand and he is seen encountering with a villain, on the other end. The lines penned by Harikrishna are about the love for school, education, respect for the Kannada language, and patriotism for the land we live in.

Another major appeal of the first look teaser is the school set erected in a five-acre land. This is among the many sets that have been constructed by art directors - Shashidhar Adapa and Mohan B Kere. "With education as the film's backdrop, this school becomes an important part of our film. The film consists of 14 sets, and the school set is one of the biggest sets made in Bengaluru," says director Harikrishna. The multilingual film is produced under the Media House Studio banner. The film produced by Shylaja Nag and Suresha B. Kranti stars Rachita Ram in the female lead, and Ravichandran, Sumalatha Ambareesh in pivotal roles. The team is yet to reveal the rest of the cast. Kranti's music is composed by director Harikrishna, and it will have Karunakar handling the cinematography.

Tharun Kishore Sudhir unveils an intriguing poster for D56

The film, starring Darshan is produced by Rockline Venkatesh

CE FEATURES

IT is now confirmed that Darshan and Tharun Kishore Sudhir are coming together for a film, which is tentatively titled D56. The film marks the third collaboration of Darshan and Tharun. The new film is produced by Rockline Venkatesh. The first-look poster of the film is out now with a tagline of the film, "It is the responsibility of the one who is leading to show the way to those who are following." The poster features a dog leading a band of sheep. The poster also underlines that the movie is based on true incidents.

According to Tharun Kishore Sudhir, the image of the flock of sheep protected by a dog represents the norm of the world. The dog considers it as its duty and the sacrifices it takes to protect the sheep represent its qualities. That is the idea behind the theme-based poster," explains Tharun.

Rockline Venkatesh says he is happy to collaborate with Darshan and Tharun Kishore Sudhir for the project. "Darshan and I are already working on a historical drama, Raja Veera Madakari Nayaka. We have also completed a schedule for the same. However, the film is delayed due to the pandemic. Darshan and I then decided to postpone the project. When we were looking for an equally interesting film to team up, the Tharun Kishore Sudhir project turned out to be the right fit."

"The subject, which explores today's system, gives a very relevant message to society. The film will bring together an ensemble cast, and we are working on it," he adds. The yet-to-be-titled project will go on floors once Darshan wraps up Kranti.

REMEMBERING THE DISCO KING

SHILAJIT MITRA

BAPPI Lahiri, the Disco King of India, breathed his last yesterday, leaving a treasure trove of music—mostly consolidated in Hindi, Bengali, and Telugu—to be savoured. The musician was instrumental in influencing the sound of the '80s, influencing musicians both up in the north and down south. With a body of work consisting of over 5,000 songs from 500 films, Bappi will remain an inspiration for many established, contemporary and upcoming artists. Some of them reflect on their association with the musician and what his compositions mean to them.

Tanishk Bagchi, composer-Music Producer

Working with Bappi da was the most memorable time of my career so far. I did Tamma Tamma Again with him, followed by Arey Pyaar Kar Le and Bhankas, his last song. I grew up on Pag Ghungroo, Tamma Tamma, Disco Dancer. He had a big influence on me. When I recreated Tamma Tamma, he was the first person to say I had done a good job. He called me personally and said he liked my arrangement and the decision to keep his voice in the track. He never discouraged me or anyone else from doing recreations. In fact, we were meant to collaborate on some more songs. He was always excited about how to reinvent the sound of a generation. When we listen to Dua Lipa or The Weeknd, we see that disco music coming back. Before the lockdown, Bappi da called me to his studio but we ended up meeting at a conference. He blessed me and told me he likes my work. He said, 'Don't listen to what others are doing, just do what you want'.

Rumi Jafferi, director

"I knew Bappi da closely. His son is married to the daughter of my close friend Mahindra Verma. Bappi da changed the music of our industry. He introduced pop and disco in our soundtracks. I'm sure he has composed over 4-5000 songs. His voice was different from all singers. It was sweet and romantic. In Disco Dancer, in Armaan, he brought a fresh wave into our songs. Before that, western influence in our music was much more subdued. His formula clicked with the audience and fetched some big hits."

Anees Bazmee, director

"It is unbelievable that Bappi Lahiri is no more. I'm still shocked and saddened. I had a close relationship with him. I was a writer on Shola Aur Shabnam, Aankhen, Mr. Azaad and Andaz, for which he gave the music. I would sit a lot with him when he was composing. His Juhu bungalow in Mumbai was our haunt. It used to be a fun environment, he was a really engaging person. I remember when he was making O Laal Dupatte Wali, he would act out parts of the song. He was a great composer who created his own niche."

Ila Arun, singer

'Bappi da didn't just wear gold. He was a golden man with a heart of gold. I have sung many songs with him. I have also toured extensively with him. Lakhs of people would throng to his performances. He was a complete showman. He entered the industry at a time when Kalyanji–Anandji, RD Burman, Naushad and Laxmikant-Pyarelal were ruling the roost. Bappi da's repertoire was not limited to Disco Dancer or Ramba Ho. In Namak Halaal, for instance, he composed Pag Ghungroo Bandh with such musical taste.

My first song with him was Khali Peeli Pyar Se from Aitbaar (1985). It was an instant hit. Gutur Gutur from Dalaal (1993) was iconic. I also sang Kundi Dhire Se Khatkana and Tere Har Sawal Ka for Bappi da. He encouraged me to do solos even when there were other singers around. He trusted me a lot. He understood your limits and urged you to sing in your own style. Even in lockdown, he called me to perform a song at his home studio.

I was close to Bappi da's family. Every Saraswati Puja he'd call us over. He loved celebrating his birthdays. His kids, Rema and Bappa, were close to him. He changed his getup post the '80s success. He was bringing rock and disco music in and wanted to look like those performers. He was doing a lot of movies in the south as well, which must have influenced his style. We'd always joke that he wore more jewellery than me. He never consumed alcohol but he loved eating, especially home-cooked Bengali food.

Dada was media-conscious and he enjoyed fame. He'd tell me, 'Ila, come in the evening, there will be a lot of press." He loved giving interviews. All his chairs were designed like thrones. At the same time, he was a man of culture. He stayed connected with the community and helped others. He never had problems with people remixing his songs. He understood they would do it irrespective, so it's better if he took part in those songs. In his late age, he had difficulty walking, but continued performing in shows. He had the energy of a bullet. His ears were always sharp. He was a serious musician and it's a big loss to the fraternity and us.'

Mano, Music composer and playback singer

Bappi Lahiri knows the audience's pulse so well and each song of his has different moods and a fresh sound. The songs are not only melodious but also hummable. He always made it a point to keep his compositions simple so that even a layman can sing them. He popularised disco music and he ushered in a new sound in the Indian film industry. I began admiring him when I was a class X student in Vijayawada. I used to sing Yaar Bina Chain Kaha Re on a loop and wondered what his sound technique was like. I am fortunate to record over 15 songs for him in several films. My love for gold ornaments has increased after seeing him. I began wearing gold chains, rings, and sunglasses like him and people fondly called me 'Andhra Bappi Lahiri' in those days. He would visit my home in Chennai and enjoy eating sweets. On every trip to Mumbai, I used to go and see him. He made immense contributions to our Indian music and his sad demise leaves a void that is difficult to fill.

Sai Kartheek, music composer

All his songs instantly managed to strike a chord with the masses due to their upbeat music. I recreated Bappi Lahiri garu's chartbuster song Arey O Samba (Rowdy Inspector) in Pataas. However, I met him only during the recording sessions of Action 3D for which he rendered a song. He was a synonym for commercial cinema and it was an enriching experience to work with a legend like him. He was all praise for the orchestration I have used in Action 3D and I always treasure those moments of performing in front of him at the audio launch event. He will truly be missed and his unparalleled legacy would continue even after his death.

Sri Krishna, playback singer

Bappi Lahiri garu was an iconic music composer. After KV Mahadevan garu, he was one of the sensational music composers, who made a lasting impression in Telugu cinema. He redefined the trend with his unique tunes. After S Thaman garu composed Rum Pum Bum for Disco Raja, he wanted Bappi garu to sing it. The next day, my friend Rahul Ram went to Mumbai and got the recording done with Bappi garu in two days. Although I didn't get an opportunity to record the song with Bappi garu, I am delighted that I share the credit with him. Personally, Aakasam looka tara (Simhasanam), Boyavani vetaku, Kunthi kumari (Rowdy Gari Pellam), and his other songs from Chiranjeevi garu's Gang Leader and State Rowdy are my favourites. I am pained by his death and my deepest condolences to his friends, family, and fans.
